OBITUARIES.

Central New York Conference.

Luke C. Queal was born April 2, 1827, in Worcester, N. Y., and died in Moravia, N. Y., January 2, 1898. His parents were of Scotch-Irish descent. Brought up on a farm, he was not without the privileges of good schools, which he attended until nineteen. At twenty-one he began to teach, but was compelled to relinquish this work by ill health, and for the same reason the profession of medicine, which he early entered upon. All his life was a struggle with a weak body, it being especially subject to pulmonary complaints, to which it finally succumbed. His spiritual training began at home, and was thorough. He was converted and joined the Church when fourteen. In September, 1852, he received an exhorter's license, and in June, 1853, joined the Oneida Conference, his first appointment being at Schenevus. He then served Millford, Hartwick, West Eaton, Cazenovia, and Norwich, after which he became presiding elder of Cazenovia District in 1866, and subsequently of Utica District in 1869. His next pastorate was that of the First Church at Syracuse. Then he was appointed to Elmira District in 1875; then again to the pastorate, serving Hedding Elmira, Canandaigua, and the First Church of Auburn. In 1885 he was made presiding elder of Auburn District, and in 1892 of Geneva District, which he served most faithfully, though in extreme bodily weakness at times, until 1894, when he was appointed to the assistant pastorate of Wall Street, Auburn. In 1895 he was stationed at Moravia, from whose parsonage God called him to rest. His influence in his Conference was remarkable in extent and duration. Seven General Conferences witnessed his power as a debater and legislator, and he stood among the few to whom that body looked for direction in matters of fundamental importance. A born lawyer, his genius was of the greatest service to the Church, and the Book of Discipline bears evidence of his mind in many sections. From 1889 to 1896 he served as a member of the Book Committee, and made the principal address at the opening of the new Western Book Concern at Cincinnati in 1894. He was a delegate to the Centennial Conference at Baltimore in 1884, and to the Ecumenical Conference at Washington in 1891. For six years he served as a trustee of Cazenovia Seminary, and over fifteen years as a trustee of Syracuse University. In this capacity his wisdom and experience proved a great aid to these institutions. As a presiding elder he was preeminently great, being both a master of assemblies and a tactician of consummate ability, and the friend of the parsonage home at every crisis. Beneath a stern exterior he carried a loyal heart, and had the warmth of a genuine and manly piety. As a preacher he ranked among the ablest expounders of the word of God in any denomination. In this particular he was a man of one book, though catholic in all his thinking, and progressive as he was scholarly. Hamilton College in 1870 conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Though he passed through severe trials during his closing years, he never lost his hold on the things of God, and was granted in his last illness seasons of rapturous communion with the great Head of the Church. His body was borne to Hatwick, Otsego County, to rest among the hills of his boyhood home. It is doubtful if the Methodism of Central New York ever had his superior in point of leadership. He belonged to the school of native greatness, and to those who come to power without the necessity of intrigue or artifice. An original thinker, a churchly statesman of the first rank, a gentleman of the warmest sympathies, and a servant of Jesus Christ devoted and honored, his name will remain in the Conference whose boundaries he fixed, whose fame he augmented, and whose minutest interest he conserved as a stimulus to a manly ministry in all things pertaining to God and men.

Dwight Williams was born in Cazenovia, N. Y., April 26, 1824. His parents were among the first Methodists in Madison County, and were members of the first class in Cazenovia. He received his academic education at Skaneateles Academy and Cazenovia Seminary. He became a Christian in early childhood, and was often heard to say, "I cannot remember when I did not pray." In 1850 he received license to exhort, and the same year a license to preach. In 1851 he was received into the Oneida Conference on trial. His first appointment was to the Litchfield Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Morris, Madison, Camillus, Hamilton, Madison again, Oxford, Clinton, Georgetown, Trumansburg, Peterboro, Vernon Center, Montezuma, Cincinnatus, First Church, Auburn; Canandaigua, First Ward, Syracuse. During his ministry it became necessary, because of ill health, for him to take the superannuate relation four times, and once that of supernumerary. This accounts for his frequent service as a supply. In 1856 he married Miss Keziah Elizabeth Lane, of New Hartford, N. Y., a member of a traditional Methodist family of Epworth, England. Three children survive him. Many sorrows came into his life, but he bore them all with radiant hopefulness. His ministry was faithful in its unconsciously uplifting influence. His sermons were clothed with beauty, and were unusual in their refinement of thought. He was known throughout the Church as a poet. His verses were pure in quality and always helpful in spirit. How many weary and sorrowing ones have found in his verse "songs in the house of their pilgrimage!" In his last fourteen years of life at Cazenovia he did some of his best work both as minister and writer. On the Sabbath afternoon preceding his death his pastor found him with mind unclouded, faith bright, and his soul in perfect peace. In the morning of June 13, 1898, he departed to dwell among the immortals.

Henry B. Troxell died at Tyrone, N. Y., November 15, 1897, aged forty-nine. In the Central New York Conference his work had been at Troupsburg and Millerton for full terms, at Burlington two years, at Liberty Corners and Asylum for the full term, at Monroeton two years, and at Caton one and a half years. Here he was taken sick and his life nearly despaired of, but in the quiet of his own home at Big Flats he slowly recovered, and in six months began preaching at Wellsburg. At the next Conference he was sent to Leona, after that to Mainsburg, then Burdette, lastly Tyrone. Here he preached for three months, struggling for life, when the end came. He was a faithful servant, doing his work not as a man-pleaser, but to the glory of God. He was never known to flinch when under stress of obligation or duty. He was gentle but firm, deliberate but earnest, possessing excellent judgment, a warm heart, and a sunny disposition. His sermons were thoughtful, persuasive, and convincing. He was a man of God, and sought reward in the "Well done" of his Master. There is no place in the universe where his soul will be at home except one, the place which Jesus went to prepare. He was intimately acquainted with his Lord after the manner of John, the beloved disciple. When beyond the power of speech he pointed toward the heavens.

FREDERICK EUGENE SPENCE was born in Titusville, Pa., January 23, 1869. His father was surgeon of the One Hundred and Eighty-eighth Regiment, New York Volunteers, and practiced medicine in Cleveland many years, where the son spent his early days, and where, at fifteen, he was converted. His mother was the first young woman to take the degree of A.B. at Genesee College, now Syracuse University. He spent one year at Cook Academy and four at Southwest Kansas College, where he began his lifework. On December 27, 1892, he married Miss Adell Dodson, of Wakefield, Kan. He began his ministry at Webber, Kan., where he remained one year; then returning east, he took work in the Central New York Conference, and served the churches at Alpine and Cayuta for six months, until the Conference session, when he was assigned to Freeville, where he remained three years. In October, 1897, he was sent to Marion. One child, with his loved wife, remains to miss his presence. He had entered upon the work of his new charge with zeal and large hopes, and at once won a place in the hearts of the people. His vitality, however, was greatly reduced by hard work, and he fell an easy victim to disease. On December 23, 1897, he was taken with pneumonia, and on December 31 he passed away. The few days of his illness were full of cheer. He joined in some of the hymns sung in his room, and at last fell asleep in Christ, perhaps without realizing that rest and reward were so near at hand. It seems as sad as it is mysterious that one so devoted, so well equipped, and so beloved, should die so young. In his short ministry he was tactful, winning, godly, and successful.

JOHN FRANK PEARSE was born in London, England, March 7, 1869, and died at Manchester, N. Y., November 27, 1897. His parents were devoted Christians of the Wesleyan body, and by them he was early taught the way of salvation. His religious growth and intellectual training had so far advanced when he was sixteen that he began to preach occasionally. He was eager to engage in his Master's service and soon had regular mission work assigned him. He also preached at Driffield, in Yorkshire, and at Horsham, about thirty miles south of London. Finally, under the impression that America afforded a field of greater usefulness, he left his native land for New York city, where for a time he was employed as assistant pastor at St. James'. He later served as general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at Ticonderoga, and then at Fulton, N. Y. In the autumn of 1893 he offered himself as a "supply" for any open charge. He was accepted for Manchester, where he labored with great acceptability for two years. In 1895 he was received on trial in the Central New York Conference and was stationed at Pultneyville. At the end of the year he was appointed to New Woodstock, to which charge he was reappointed. But his work was done, and he knew it not. At the close of the Conference session he went to Manchester for a few days of rest. Typhoid fever soon manifested itself, and after a fight for life, which lasted for five weeks, triumphed over his pain-racked body. He loved his work and his people deeply. He had completed most honorably the first two years of his Conference course, and was looking to large usefulness in his chosen work. He was an impressive and effective preacher, a careful administrator, a systematic pastor, and gave promise of a successful future.

Des Moines Conference.

JOSEPH S. WRIGHT was born in Morrow County, O., December 21, 1862, and died in Red Oak, Ia., November 4, 1897. His parents removed from Ohio to Iowa in 1872, locating near Monroe, where the son graduated from the high school in 1880. He entered Simpson College in 1882, and graduated four years later. About two months after his graduation he married Miss Kate Martin, the daughter of Dr. W. C. Martin, of the Des Moines Conference. He was admitted on trial in the Des Moines Conference in 1886, and was admitted into full membership in 1888. His pastoral service was as follows: Corrydon, Boone, Perry, Denison, Red Oak. These figures do not express his labors for eleven active years. Hosts of friends in all these charges remember the work of this earnest toiler. He was an able exponent of God's word, a beloved pastor, and a man of splendid judgment in the management of the affairs of the Church. Returning from his last Conference he was seized with an indisposition which developed into typhoid fever. When it abated he fell into a collapse from which it was impossible to arouse him. Surrounded by loving kindred and his wife and little daughter he passed into the beautiful beyond.

THOMAS WENDON TIPPETT was born January 12, 1866, in Cornwall, England. He was converted at nineteen, and the year following was licensed as a local preacher. In 1888 he came to America, and for a time lived in Pennsylvania. In August, 1889, he came to Menlo, Ia., and was the same fall received on trial in the Des Moines Conference. His first appointment was Guthrie Circuit, which he served for a year, being greatly beloved by the people. Following this he served with much acceptability the Stuart Circuit, Lewis Charge, Audubon Circuit, and Redfield. Having been reappointed to the last charge for the second year, he found it necessary to take a rest. In Colorado and Arizona he made a strong effort to recover his health. He returned to Stuart in April, 1898, and spent the summer hopefully, purposing to again join the ranks of workers. But in the midst of these plans he was taken with a renewed attack of his old malady, and on August 20, 1898, while yet thinking of service for his Master, was called to his reward. He married Miss Susie A. Wilkins, of Stuart, March 19, 1893. He was a faithful servant of God, true in all the relations of life. His ministry was blessed below, his entrance above was abundant.

ELI MARIS HURFORD FLEMING was born in Chester County, Pa., March 1, 1822, and died in Woodbine, Ia., July 16, 1898. He was baptized in infancy in the Presbyterian Church. His conversion took place at Kingston. He served as a class leader, exhorter, and local preacher, receiving license to preach in 1848 in Highland County, O. He began work as an itinerant in the Indiana Conference in 1850, and was admitted to full membership in the Southeast Indiana Conference in 1852. Coming West in 1854, he became identified with the Iowa Conference. He was on a committee in 1859 to divide the Iowa Conference, and proposed calling the new Conference "The Des Moines," but failed in the measure, it being styled "Western Iowa." He was a pioneer among pioneers, helping to lay broadly and wisely the foundations of Methodism in western Iowa and southeastern Dakota. When pastor at Indianola in 1859–60 he secured the erection of a building and started the Indianola Male and Female Seminary, which in time was adopted by the Conference, and out of which grew Simpson College. In 1860 he, as secretary, assisted Bishop Janes in organizing the Western Iowa Conference. He was an acceptable preacher, a forcible writer, and a wise administrator. He served as pastor upward of thirty years, as presiding elder three terms, and as agent for the American Bible Society for some years. He was a delegate to the General Conference of 1876. In 1893 he reluctantly took a superannuate relation. He had suffered for some time with lung trouble. The death of a daughter two weeks prior to his precipitated his departure. He came to the grave "in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in in his season." After conversing with his pastor for an hour or more, sitting in his chair, the wheels of nature stopped, and he was not, for God took him. A wife and nine children survive him.

THOMAS J. BROWN was born in Douglas County, Ill., December 8, 1856, and died in Indianola, Ia., October 13, 1897. He married, in 1867, Alice Skidmore, who, with seven children, cherishes his memory. He joined the Church when about fifteen, but did not feel that he was converted until seven years later. In 1882, feeling his call to preach, he left the farm in Illinois and went to Iowa and took work as a supply on Ontario Circuit, Des Moines Conference. The next year he supplied Mineral Ridge Circuit. In 1884 he attended school at Indianola. In 1885 he was received on trial in the Des Moines Conference, and was appointed to Dedham Circuit. His following appointments were: Grand Junction, Pilot Mound, Jamaica, Dallas, Mount Ayr Circuit. In 1895 he became supernumerary, and in 1897 was superannuated. He was a great sufferer during his last six months of life, but bore all patiently, and died expressing a bright hope of eternal life through Jesus Christ.

JOHN R. CARY was born in Morris County, N. J., August 1, 1820, and died in La Peer, Neb., October 11, 1897. He was converted, baptized, and admitted into the Church at Mount Vernon O., in January, 1841. He was licensed as an exhorter in 1842, and as a local preacher in 1843, at Norwalk, O., where he was attending school. He was ordained as a local deacon at Bellefontaine, O., in 1851, by Bishop Morris. At the Iowa Conference in 1857 he was received on trial, and in 1859 was admitted into full connection. He served the following charges: Osceola, Brighton, Marengo, North Liberty. In September, 1862, he was transferred to the Western Iowa Conference. He served New York, Leon, Lineville, Palmyra, Indianola Circuit, and Winterset. He was superannuated 1864–66, and from 1871 to the time of his death. He married Eliza S Lewis July 1, 1845, at Crawfordsville, O. Five children survive. He had resided on a ranch with his son in western Nebraska for some years, but was preparing to remove to his old home at Garden Grove, Ia., when he was seriously hurt by being thrown from a horse, and died soon afterward from internal hemorrhage. He was laid to rest at Garden Grove.

Northern Minnesota Conference.

EDWARD L. FERRIS was born in Osage, Ia., January 10, 1864, and died in Minneapolis, Minn., December 12, 1897. His sickness was very brief, and its serious nature was not apprehended until a few hours before his death. Though called to his reward in the morning of life, his work was well done. He was converted when a lad of thirteen, and united with the Church at Yorkville, Ill. Under the impression that he was called to preach he took the course at the Aurora Normal School, and two years later graduated in the classical course at Jennings Seminary. In 1886 he entered the Northwestern University, and there remained until the completion of the junior year. A severe sickness compelled him to relinquish his school work for the time, and he began to supply in the Rock River Conference, to which he was admitted on trial. While serving Epworth, in St. Paul, he took work at Hamline, with the intention of finishing the course of study. His first appointment was at Downer's Grove, Chicago, in 1889. In the fall of 1890 he came to Minnesota, and was stationed successively at Moorhead, Appleton, Epworth, St. Paul; and Cannon Falls. At the Conference of 1887 he was transferred to the Northern Minnesota Conference, and was appointed to Western Avenue, Minneapolis, where he had just begun a most promising pastorate when summoned to go up higher. He was a faithful minister, a forceful speaker, a helpful visitor in the homes of those in sickness and trouble. On October 6, 1891, he married Miss Anna O. Martin, who, with one child, lives to mourn his early departure. He was a choice young man, and "was not, for God took him."

ANDREW WESLEY EDWARDS was born in Ontario, Canada, August 1, 1847, and died in Denver, Colo., November 6, 1897. He was of old Methodist stock, his grandfather, Andrew Young, having been a class leader and friend of John Wesley. In early manhood he came to the United States and gained a classical education, taking his degrees in Illinois Wesleyan University. He married, in 1870, Miriam E. Marvin, who survives him. He also leaves two sons. His ministerial labors were first in Manitoba, and later in Minnesota. In Manitoba he was instrumental in founding a large number of societies, built eight new churches, and left a memory that is as ointment poured forth. In Minnesota he labored from 1881 to 1888, and is remembered as a Christian gentleman and a brother beloved. He served Brainard, Crookston, Mankato, Austin, and Clinton Avenue, St. Paul. On account of declining health he took a supernumerary relation, and in 1889 settled in Denver, Colo. The climate there was such that he enjoyed comparatively good health, and an accident on a street car in Minneapolis during the summer of 1897 was the immediate cause of his death. He died as he had lived, a lover of Jesus Christ.

EDWIN J. BICKELL was born in Canada in 1846. While but a boy he became a sailor before the mast, and visited many parts of the world. Later he learned the printer's trade, and thus paid his way through college. Having been soundly converted, he entered the preparatory department of the Northwestern University in 1871, and graduated from the university in 1877. He graduated from Garrett Biblical Institute in 1879. The knowledge and experience gained by him as a sailor led to his selection as captain of the first student crew of the government life-saving station established at Evanston in 1877. He joined the West Wisconsin Conference in 1879. In 1881 he was admitted into full connection and was transferred to the Central Illinois Conference. In 1884 he did work in the Montana Mission. He was then transferred to the Idaho Conference, where he was ordained elder, and whence he was transferred to the Minnesota Conference. After a term in the pastorate he was elected editor of the Montana Christian Advocate, which position he filled two years. Later he took a supernumerary relation and returned to his early occupation. While engaged in night work upon the Helena Independent he caught a cold which settled in his eyes and finally occasioned his entire loss of sight. From that time he was wholly incapacitated for work, and lived much of the time with a brother at Ravenswood, Chicago. He married, on Christmas Day, 1877, Miss Ella James, daughter of a Methodist minister, who, with two children, still resides in Montana. He was a good man. He died at the home of a brother in Thomasville, Ala., January 18, 1898, and was buried at that place.

EDWARD S. PILLING was born in Philadelphia, Pa., of sturdy Methodist stock, September 4, 1858, and died in Asbury Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn., June 8, 1898. Having received a call to preach, he went to Drew Theological Seminary and completed the course. He came to Minnesota, and after assisting in the pastorate of North Church, Minneapolis, for three months, entered the Minnesota Conference, and was assigned to Forest Heights, Minneapolis, as its first pastor. He afterward served Excelsior, Grace, Duluth; Merriam Park, Grace, St. Paul; and Richfield. In all these charges he labored with conscientious fidelity. His religious experience was clear. Christ, whom he preached as the remedy of the world's ills, was precious in his own life. His preaching was evangelical. He believed that it was faith that would save the world. In his methods of work he was businesslike, painstaking, and accurate. During his last three years he served as the financial agent of the Asbury Hospital, entering upon his work with great enthusiasm. He was inventive in his methods, persevering in execution, and successful in results. He widened the field of the hospital's usefulness, and added largely to its income in years of great financial depression. His death was a great surprise to his friends. He had but recently returned from Bermuda, apparently reinvigorated, but the fatal germs of consumption had intrenched themselves in his frame. On Sunday morning, June 5, 1898, he prepared to preach in the First Church, St. Paul, but at the last hour was compelled to give up the engagement. On Monday morning he went to the hospital, and on Weduesday he died. He leaves a wife and daughter. A good and useful man is taken in the noonday of life.

Northwest Iowa Conference.

Charles Wesley Batcheller was born in Homer, N. Y., October 25, 1824. He was a son of Rev. Wesley Batcheller, and a grandson of Rev. Elijah Batcheller, who was a member of the first delegated General Conference. At four years of age he moved to La Salle County, Ill., and three years later was converted. Early in life he felt the call to preach, and was "not disobedient." He was a student at Mount Morris Seminary for two years, and at Evanston for three years. He joined the Rock River Conference in 1847. Later he transferred to the Iowa Conference, and, on its division, fell into the territory that afterward became the Northwest Iowa Conference, of which he was a member at his death. His character was marked by a perseverance and zeal that knew not defeat, and which enabled him to undergo the trials and hardships of the pioneer work with patience. His active service covered a period of twenty-six years. On November 6, 1897, after a very brief illness, he was called home. Four children survive him. His only son. J. W. Batcheller, is a member of the Upper Iowa Conference.

Minnesota Conference.

George Robson Hair was born December 6, 1825, in Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, and died in Mankato, Minn., January 23, 1898. When but a boy he received from his father's dying lips the injunction, "George, serve the God of thy fathers, and it will be all right with thee." At eighteen he was licensed to preach. In 1853, with his young wife, he came to New York city, where he secured a position in a large mercantile establishment, and where he continued to exercise his gifts as a local preacher. Strongly urged by his friend, Dr. Nelson, then principal of the Wyoming Conference Seminary, he became a probationer in the Wyoming Conference in 1856. In that Conference he served the following charges: Lisle, Windsor, Lanesboro, Orvell, Le Raysville, Gibson, Kingston, Wyoming District, Waverly. In 1879 he was transferred to the Minnesota Conference, where he received the following appointments: Northfield, Red River District, Superintendent of North Dakota Missions, Owatonna, Mankato, Mankato District, North Church, Minneapolis; Glencoe. In 1896 he took a superannuated relation, and moved to Mankato, where he built a little house, feeling that his itinerancy was over. At the Conference of 1897 he was appointed to supply Garden City. On Sunday morning, January 23, 1898, he was transferred to the Church triumphant. Though his last hours were spent in great pain, they were hours of great triumph over the flesh. He was a good man, and his works do follow him. Though deprived of the advantages of higher education, he was a lifelong student; though abreast with the thought of his time, he lost nothing of his religious zeal. Always companionable, always cheerful, he brought sunshine to the homes he entered and brightened the lives he touched.

Indiana Conference.

Joseph Kerr Creighton was born December 19, 1830, in Pittsburg, Pa., and died in the parsonage at Holman, Ind., October 27, 1897. He married Marietta Stamper about fourteen years ago, who, with one child, survives. He joined the Presbyterian Church when a boy. In 1879 he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church and entered the ministry. He preached in Kentucky fourteen years at the following places: Vine Grove, Willard and Olive Hill, Saylersville, Irvine, Paducah and Mayfield, Oldham. He was then transferred to the Southeast Indiana (now Indiana) Conference and served as pastor the following charges: Butlerville, Moorefield, Canaan, Paris, Holman. In the latter place he had commenced his second year and had planned to hold revival services before Christmas, but disease laid its hold upon him, and after suffering intensely for three weeks without a murmur he passed peacefully to be with the Saviour, whom he had so faithfully served. He was a close Bible student, as his sermons showed, and pleaded eloquently for the salvation of souls. He was a great lover of the songs of Zion, and was one of the sweetest of singers. Men loved him as a friend, a pastor, and a true Christian brother.

John S. Winchester was born in Jefferson County, Ind., January 26, 1819, and died in Greensburg, Ind., February 12, 1898. He made a profession of religion September 8, 1836, and united with the Church. The year following he was appointed a class leader, and was afterward licensed as an exhorter. On May 8, 1842, he was licensed to preach, and the same year joined the Indiana Conference on probation. He filled in succession the pastorates at Canaan, Wilmington, Vevay, Milan. Shelbyville, Greenwood, Milroy, Burlington, Liberty, Laurel, Mount Carmel, Fairfield, Rushville, Clarksburg, Greensburg (Centenary), Milford, St. Paul, Guilford, and Westport. For a number of years he was agent for the Preachers' Aid Society, afterward taking the superannuate relation. His labors as a pastor were attended with remarkable success, several thousand being added to the Church under his ministry. He married Maluda Slauwson on December 14, 1844, who in her death left the legacy of a good name. He now enjoys the heavenly rest.

Samuel Longden was born in Derbyshire, England, July 24, 1815. At the early age of seventeen he took his first charge in the Primitive Methodist Church. He came to this country in 1839. After two most successful years of evangelistic work he united with the Pittsburg Conference, within whose territory he preached for twelve years. In 1854 he was transferred to the Southeast Indiana (now the Indiana) Conference, of which he was the oldest member at his death. In 1875 he took a superannuate relation and moved to Greencastle, Ind. No one who has ever lived a retired life in this classic town has at the same time been so prominent. As a worshiper at the Locust Street Church he was a pillar of strength. Wise in council, fervent in spirit, always rejoicing, he was an inspiration to his pastor. Hundreds of students will remember him as a most patriarchal man. His snow-white hair, full voice, and keen eye made one think of Moses, whose "eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated." The older he grew the deeper his love for humanity. His children are useful and honored. One son is chief clerk in the Quartermaster's Department, United States Army; another son, W. C. Longden, is in the Central China Mission; a third is at the Chicago University; a fourth is professor of German Language and Literature, De Pauw University; and a daughter is the librarian of De Pauw University. In the early morning of February 26, 1898, occurred his death. He had been up as usual most of the preceding day, and had dined with the family at tea, having himself returned thanks, and not until ten o'clock at night had he an intimation that his departure was at hand. Retiring on earth, he arose in heaven.

Zachariah Selby was born near Petersburg, Ind., July 11, 1864, and died July 11, 1898, on the thirty-fourth anniversary of his birth. He was left fatherless when a boy, and had in large measure to make his own way in the world; but by indomitable purpose he acquired a common school education. His mother died in 1888, but lived long enough to leave the impress of her Christian character on her boy. He joined the Church at Alford in March, 1880. Removing to Petersburg in April, 1885, he placed his membership there. In 1887 he was granted a local preacher's license, and preached his first sermon at White Church, near Petersburg. In September, 1887, he entered De Pauw University with only about $30 as a basis of his course, but worked his way through college, graduating in the theological school in May, 1891. During his course he supplied Greencastle Circuit and Newburg. He entered the Indiana Conference in 1890, and successively served Maywood, Owensville, Fort Branch, Main Street, New Albany; Paoli. He died during his second year at Paoli. During his pastorate at Owensville he married Miss Lena Hoover, who survives with three children. He was perfectly resigned in his sickness, and passed peacefully to his rest. A faithful member of the Indiana Conference has gone to his reward.

George L. Curtiss was born of New England parents in Columbia, O., November 21, 1835. His first twelve years were spent as a farmer's boy and in attendance upon the district school. He was educated at Baldwin Institute (now University), completing the course in 1854. On the January previous he was converted and joined the Church. He received his license to exhort in 1855. The same year he removed to Indiana and became principal of Manchester Institute. In 1856 he was licensed to preach, and that year became professor of mathematics in Moore's Hill College, remaining two years. In 1857 he joined the Southeast Indiana Conference, spending the first year in the college. In 1858 he married Miss Matilda J. Smith, daughter of Giles C. Smith, long a member of the Indiana and Southeast Indiana Conferences. Having resigned his professorship, he was stationed as follows: Vevay, Boston, Fulton, Jeffersonville, Hanover, Charlestown; Robert's Chapel, Madison; Centenary, Greensburg; Connersville, Fletcher Place, Indianapolis; Shelbyville, Fletcher Place, Indianapolis again; Wall Street, Jeffersonville; Jeffersonville District; professor of historical theology in the school of theology, De Pauw University; Columbus, Indiana. The same year he received the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology from the Indiana Asbury University. From 1883 to 1890 he was professor in the Medical College of Indiana. In 1880 he was a delegate to the General Conference, and in 1884 he was a member of the Centennial Conference at Baltimore. For nineteen years he was secretary of the Southeast Indiana Conference. He was the author of A Monograph of Methodism in Shelbyville, Romance of American History, A Study of the Constitution of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Manual of Methodist Episcopal Church History, Arminianism in History, and Evolution of Christian Doctrines, besides a large number of articles in the papers and magazines. His crowning glory was his great, loving heart. He had an enormous capacity for work, being able to labor seventeen hours a day year after year without unusual fatigue. As a consequence he was always busy. His one purpose was to glorify God in all things. When teaching he constantly insisted that his students should consecrate themselves fully to the work of God for the uplifting of humanity. He was just completing a tour through Egypt and the Holy Land in the purpose to prepare himself for a few more years of effective work, and had reached Naples, Italy, March 31, 1898, on his return, where he was taken sick, and ended his work.

William Wiseman Puett was born near Ellettsville, Ind., January 24, 1822, and died at the home of his daughter in Columbia City, Ind., August 18, 1898. His early life was spent on the farm where he was born. On July 30, 1843, he married Rebecca Myra Duncan, seven children surviving them. In early life he was converted and united with the Church. In 1854 the Quarterly Conference of Ellettsville Charge granted him a local preacher's license. He was admitted into the Indiana Conference in 1854, and was appointed to Williamsburg Circuit, where he served acceptably for two years. In 1856 he was appointed to Jonesville Circuit, where he had a successful pastorate of two years. In 1858 he was appointed to New Philadelphia Circuit, where he served faithfully for two years. He also served successively Owensville, Center, being the first of his Conference to remain three years under the three years' rule; Rockport Circuit, Washington Circuit, Prairieton, Brooklyn, Belleville, Putnamville, Ellettsville, Fredericksburg, Greeneville, Lanesville, Center again, Grandview, and Boonville. He closed his active ministry by serving at Newburg. In 1888 he took a superannuate relation. He was a good preacher, a faithful pastor, and a successful revivalist. Many will rise in the great day and call him blessed. In the fall of 1888 he, with his faithful wife, took up his residence in Boonville, Ind., where, on June 11, 1889, she peacefully passed to her reward. After her death he made his home with his youngest daughter, who married W. M. Nelson, of the North Indiana Conference, in 1893. He died in the full assurance of the Gospel he had preached so earnestly. A good man has gone, and the world is better by his having lived in it.

Cincinnati Conference.

Asbury Lowrey, D.D., was born March 20, 1816, in Goodwin's Point, in the State of New York. His father was a useful local preacher in the heroic days of Asbury. In 1834 he united with the Church in Penn Yan, N. Y., while a student in the Presbyterian Academy. In his nineteenth year he began to be exercised about his call to the ministry. His first work was as a supply on a circuit where a large number were converted. He united with the Genesee Conference in 1838, but desiring to make Ohio his future field of labor, he started West in the fall of 1839, and was at once sent to the Newark Circuit. During that year three hundred professed conversion. In 1840 he was received into the Ohio Conference, in which, with the Cincinnati Conference, he labored for thirty-five years consecutively in the following charges: Eaton, Piqua, Troy, Asbury Cincinnati; Chillicothe, Newark, Zanesville, Xenia, Morris Chapel, Cincinnati; First Church, Urbana; Wesley Chapel, Cincinnati; Hamilton, Greene Street, Piqua; Wesley Chapel, Dayton, and two years at the Female Academy at Xenia. He was also presiding elder of the Dayton District, of the Springfield District, of the Xenia District, and of the West Cincinnati District. He represented his Conference three times in the General Conference. In that of 1856, at Indianapolis, he was prominent in the notable debate on the slavery question. He was also sent in 1870 as a fraternal delegate to the Wesleyan Conference at Toronto, Canada. He was again and again called to the eldership because of his rare fitness for the position. He was a lifelong student of theology and a most able champion of the doctrines peculiar to Wesleyan Methodism. Few men have spoken or written on the higher Christian life more effectively than he. The doctrine of entire sanctification he believed and lived. In 1874 he became supernumerary, and soon after entered upon the editorship of the Christian Standard. Concerning this step he said: "I would not advise anyone to leave the regular work for any specialty, unless age and other circumstances should make it reasonably certain that the usefulness of the specialist will be enhanced thereby." In less than two years he resigned this editorship, and with his family traveled in Europe and the Holy Land. While in England he was the recipient of marked attentions from Dr. Punshon and other Wesleyan leaders, preaching once in the pulpit of City Road Chapel. He also delivered an address before the Irish Wesleyan Conference at Belfast. On his return to Philadelphia in 1878 he began, with Dr. Asa Mahan, the publication of the monthly journal called Divine Life, which became a leading organ of the experience of holiness. For eighteen years he found most congenial and useful employment in the publication of this magazine. He also wrote such books as Positive Theology and Possibilities of Grace. He was blessed with a splendid physique. The pulpit was indeed his throne. Many will recall his great sermon on the celebration of the Centennial of American Methodism in 1866, during the session of the Cincinnati Conference. Bishop Thomson was heard to express the opinion that no finer tribute to Methodism had probably ever been paid in a single discourse. In 1891 he was stricken with paralysis, from which he recovered sufficiently to continue his editorial work until 1896, when his impaired sight obliged him to give up active employment. He now settled in Germantown, Pa., where he fell asleep in Jesus, August 5, 1898. One of his last public utterances before his Conference was in part as follows: "I trust I may say, without presumption and without provoking dissent, that I am ripe and ready for my transfer by the great Shepherd and Bishop of our souls to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem. . . . I cannot ask you to indorse my record, but I can and do ask you to pray that God will forgive its blemishes and accept me for Christ's sake; and when the end comes, which cannot be distant, pray, O pray that my sun may go down in golden azure and bring a final sleep in Jesus."

Silas Bennett, D.D., was born on a farm in Warren County, O., July 14, 1826, and died in Bellefontaine, O., March 10, 1898. His early educational advantages were not of the best, but were improved by him to his utmost ability. He afterward entered Farmer's College, and graduated in 1849. Among the young men associated with him in his educational course were ex-President Harrison and Bishop Walden. He received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from his alma mater in 1879. He married Catharine K. Clark, of Warren County, June 18, 1851, who with one son and one daughter survives. In 1850 he was admitted to the Ohio Conference. His earliest fields of labor were Milford Circuit, Winchester, East White Oak, Greenfield, Lewisburg, and Troy. In 1859 ill health compelled him to take a supernumerary relation, in which he continued for five years, during which time he operated a farm. His health having been restored, he was made effective in 1864, and appointed to Georgetown, where he remained one year. His subsequent appointments were: Felicity, presiding elder of Ripley District, Springfield District, Grace, Piqua; Madisonville, Chiviot, Milford, Pearl Street, Cincinnati; Batavia. In 1886, becoming convinced that his strength was no longer adequate to the toil of the active ministry, he again became supernumerary, and fixed his home in Bellefontaine, where he resided until the end. It does not often fall to men to leave behind a more precious name. He was greatly beloved by his brethren and much admired for his saintliness of character by the charges he served. As an administrator he was especially qualified to mediate differences, to harmonize discordant elements, and to rebuild shattered societies. He was a strong preacher in his clear conviction of the truth and in the effect produced. He was for long years an ardent student of the Bible. Every great event; every lofty personage, whether patriarch or prophet, apostle or revelator; every transcendent scene, whether Moses on Sinai or the apostles and the Christ on the holy mount, or St. Paul caught up into the third heaven, or John in banishment, with the wonders of the unseen opened to his vision, or Christ rising from the tomb of Joseph and ascending on the clouds from Olivet —all were studiously pondered by him that he might preach the wonderful works of God. And then, from this Holy of Holies, he would go to the pulpit, and with a burden of souls as a mighty passion, would wait for the fires to kindle, until at last the unction of his address would move all hearts, producing a strange sense of the divine presence. His religious experience was one of assurance. He did not guess at the truth, but had a deep and abiding faith. Death to him had no terrors. The beyond was to him a glorious life with God.

Timothy Wones was born in Yorkshire, England, February 19, 1816. When not yet three years of age his parents immigrated to the United States and settled near Northampton, O. Here the boy grew to mature years, assisting in clearing the forests and tilling the soil, and enjoying but one year of study in the district school. A few days before attaining his majority he was "wonderfully converted." With his conversion came the call to the ministry, but, knowing his lack of preparation, he delayed obedience for some years. At last, in June, 1843, he accepted a local preacher's license, and for five years served most acceptably as a supply. In 1848 he was received upon trial in the Ohio Conference, and was appointed to the Jamestown Circuit as junior preacher. The circuit embraced thirteen appointments, and the salary allowed for this year was one hundred dollars. His next appointment was to the Lockington Circuit, and his next to the Fairfield Circuit. His fourth appointment was to Augusta Circuit, Kentucky, as preacher in charge. Upon the division of the Ohio Conference he chose the Cincinnati Conference, but owing to its crowded condition was transferred to the Ohio. His appointments for the next five years were as follows: Dunbarton Circuit, Gallipolis Circuit, Jackson Circuit. Still desiring to return to the Cincinnati Conference, he asked for a certificate of location with a view to readmission, and again took supply work, serving the following charges during the next five years: Beaver Creek Mission, Fairfield Circuit, Addison Circuit, Lockington Circuit, and Yellow Springs Station. Of his thirteen years in the active work he wrote: "As near as I can tell, having but a partial record, I received into the Church about one thousand souls on probation. To God be all the glory!" At the Cincinnati Conference, in 1885, he was readmitted on his certificate of location and granted a supernumerary relation. In 1889 he became superannuated, and so continued till his death, July 28, 1898. He was a man of deep convictions, rich in Christian experience, and especially gifted in prayer. He was twice married, and is survived by a widow and six children—one son, Creighton Wones, being a member of the Cincinnati Conference. For his last three years he was in failing health, the most of the time deprived of his sight, but through it all was patient and trustful. The end came peacefully.

George Thomas Perry was born March 27, 1865, near Elgin, Ill., and died after eight days' illness, of laryngitis, in Lynchburg, O., January 20, 1898. He was the son of a successful member of the Rock River Conference for many years, who died some six years ago. His eldest brother is also a member of the Rock River Conference. Consecrated by his parents at birth to the ministry, and called to it from his earliest recollection, all his boyish efforts tended toward a conscientious preparation for it. His student life was spent at the Northern Illinois College, Fulton, Ill., and at Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Ia. On October 28, 1890, he married Miss Mattie Constinor, of Monroe, O. He preached his first sermon at sixteen, and received his license as an exhorter in 1880. In 1884 he was licensed to preach. He served as supply at Montgomery from 1887 to 1889, and at Harrison one year. He was received into the Cincinnati Conference in 1890. His first charges were Walker and Union, in Butler County, and Red Lion, in Warren County. After serving these charges he completed a year's studies, and graduated with honor at the normal institution in Lebanon, O. He then served as pastor of the Mainville and Belfast Charges for two years each. His last appointment was on the Lynchburg Circuit, where he gave full proof of his ministry. His pulpit presence was attractive. His sermons held his audiences from first to last. His people loved him because of his Christian character. He had been conducting a protracted meeting at Dunn's Chapel, seven miles distant, returning home each evening after services so as to be with his sick child. From the inclemency of the weather he contracted a severe cold that developed into the disease which ended his life. A short time before his death he sang with his children their favorite song, "O come, angel bands." To his wife he said, "When I am gone do not mourn for me, for I shall be at home."

James Stephenson, D.D., was born near Cannonsburg, Pa., September 10, 1834, and died in Springfield, O., September 4, 1898. He was converted when a little boy and united with the Presbyterian Church. His grandfather was a Doctor of Divinity in the Seceder Church. In passing through Columbus, when fifteen years old, he was seized with cholera, and while struggling with that disease consecrated himself to the ministry. From Columbus he went to Groveport, where for some years he worked diligently at his trade, rising at 4 A. M. that he might have time to study. From Groveport he went to Morrow, where he pursued his studies while toiling as a carpenter. Becoming conscious that he was no longer in harmony with all the doctrines of the Presbyterian Church, in which he was a ruling elder, he went to Waynesville, O., where a Quarterly Meeting was being held, and identified himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was received into the Cincinnati Conference in 1860. His genuine mettle was shown in his request to be appointed to the hardest work in the Conference. In this heroic spirit he continued to work until the end. The outline of his itinerant journeyings is as follows: Bowerville, Centenary, Amelia, Walnut Hills, Avondale, First Church, Urbana; Green Street, Piqua; presiding elder of Dayton District; Grace, Piqua; New Carlyle, Wilmington, Mechanicsburg, Fairmount, Cincinnati, Port Union, Loveland, Jamestown, to which station he had been invited to return, and to which he expected to be appointed the ensuing Conference year. But suddenly the Chief Shepherd of the Church called him, and he ascended to join the host invisible. He was necessarily detained when the roll of his Conference was called, but reached the seat of the Conference on Thursday. On Saturday evening he went to Springfield to fill the pulpit of High Street Church on the Sabbath. In a happy mood he entered the pulpit on Sunday morning. His text was Heb. 7.26. In speaking of the sinless character of Christ he said that the architect, the artist, the poet, are all dissatisfied with their best works, that we find no perfect character even among our most admired friends, and that this often makes those advanced in years long for the time when they may behold the only perfect One, Jesus Christ. His last words were, "I hope you may get as much pleasure from contemplating this perfect One as I have." He then turned and said, "I feel faint," stepped back to the chair, sat down, and in a few moments passed away without a struggle or a sigh. He was a lifelong student, delighting in the fellowship of his books. As a poet he was touched with revelations of beauty and glory unfelt by those not so richly endowed as he. His beautiful book, Uncle Ben, is a worthy incarnation of the strength, faith, hope, and love which endeared him to his friends. He was a musician, often finding rest in the concord of sweet sounds, and an intelligent theologian, apprehending clearly the sublime verities of divine truth. He was an eloquent preacher, often producing the most profound impression upon his audiences. Many souls hailed him as their spiritual father. Unassuming in demeanor, he accepted his share of toil and privation without murmuring. In Xenia, thirty-two years ago, he married Miss Nannie E. Horn, who survives him. In his death four sons and three daughters are left fatherless. In 1889 Rust University bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. The door of the celestial home stood open to admit him as he vanished from the presence of many witnesses, while exalting his Lord.

Newton W. Darlington was born in West Union, O., May 17, 1826, and died in the place of his birth March 18, 1898. He was in the ministry for thirty-nine years, eight of which were spent as presiding elder in the Kentucky Conference. He was a man of sturdy mold—an Elijah, a John the Baptist. He desired no discourse, eulogy, or memoir, and those who knew and loved him best, obedient to his will, ask silence.

Northern German Conference.

Frederick Hermsmeyer was born January 5, 1825, in Lippe, Detmold, Germany. In 1847 he came to this country and settled in Warren County, Mo. The same year he married Marie S. Lienenschmidt, who died in 1893. Through the influence of devoted ministers of the State Church in Germany he was brought under conviction. He was, however, converted at a camp meeting in Warren County, Mo., in 1853, at which time he also joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In May, 1859, he came to Red Wing, Minn., and as he showed good gifts and activity, he was licensed as a local preacher, and became pastor at East Prairie, Minn. In 1860 he joined the Minnesota Conference, and was returned for another year to East Prairie. He afterward served the following charges: Rochester, Blooming Grove, Shakopee, Henderson, Carver, Wabosha, La Crosse, East Prairie, Waseca, Wabasha, Hokak. After this he took a superannuate relation and moved to Waterville, Minn, where he lived for fourteen years until his death. He was a gifted and successful preacher. After he retired from the active ministry he assisted the pastors wherever he could. On September 1, 1898, he went to prayer meeting, where he was paralyzed. He was carried home and died on September 3, in the midst of his three children, at Waterville, Minn.

Upper Iowa Conference.

R. W. Milner was born in Columbiana County, O., October 22, 1826. He was married at Salineville, January 14, 1851, to Mary Coburn. In 1856 he removed to the vicinity of Wyoming, Ia. At this time he divided his attention between farming and the legal profession. While living at Wyoming he attended a revival meeting held at Steam Mill, and was converted. He was granted a license to preach by the Mineral Creek Quarterly Conference, August 3, 1861. He joined the Upper Iowa Conference in 1865, and was appointed to Langworthy Circuit, which he served three years. He was then successively appointed to Maquoketa Circuit, Monticello, Maquoketa, Monmouth Circuit, and Center Grove. He next served Iowa Falls, Iama, Belle Plaine, and Clarence. His health then failed and he took a supernumerary relation, which he held for three years. In 1891 he was granted a superannuate relation, which continued until his death. He made an enviable record as a church builder, having erected two on the Langworthy Circuit, three on the Maquoketa Circuit, and three on the Monmouth Circuit, besides completing the church at Iowa Falls and improving other church property. He was a very sympathetic and effective preacher. He ranked well as a pastor, attending to all the duties of a Methodist minister. Four children mourn their loss. He was bereft of his wife's helpful presence June 7, 1895, from which time he became sad and lonely. Six weeks prior to his death he was confined to his room, and the last four was unable to leave his couch. His geniality and Christian bearing were very marked during his sickness. From the first he had the impression that his sickness was "unto death." When his friends left him he would say, "My friends come and go, but Jesus stays with me all the time." An hour before his death, when asked if he had as great faith in his Lord as previously, he replied, "More." He was conscious to the last, passing away to the unseen glory without a struggle.

L. S. Cooley. [Obituary not received.]

Central Ohio Conference.

Gilmore M. Hunter was born near Lancaster, O., December 12, 1861, and died in Van Wert November 7, 1897. He was converted when a lad of thirteen, and united with the Church. Feeling called to the ministry, he entered Spring Arbor Seminary, remaining there two years. He married Miss Anna Hadley, a daughter of a Free Methodist minister, and preached in that church for one year. Becoming convinced that duty and wisdom called for the change, he offered himself to the ministry of the Church in which he had been reared, and was received into the Central Ohio Conference in 1889. He served the following appointments: Pemberville, Metamora, Dupont, and Payne. He was a careful student, an earnest preacher, and a devoted Christian, possessing a deep and joyful experience in the saving power of Christ. The bereaved wife, two little sons, five and eight years, and a little daughter of three years will miss him as only those know who are so bereft. Our brother has joined the heavenly choir. In 1887 he was appointed to Van Wert Circuit, Lima District. He entered upon the year's duties full of hope, filling his pulpit for two Sundays. He was then taken violently ill with typhoid fever, of a malignant cerebral type, and died after three weeks of intense suffering. Having so loved earth's flowers that his windows were like a garden in perpetual bloom, he lives now where "fragrant flowers immortal bloom."

Joseph Wykes was born in Northamptonshire, England, February 22, 1819, and died in Kenton, O., February 25, 1898. He received his early education at a private school and a boarding school. At fourteen he left school for the work of the farm. In his eighteenth year he was converted and joined the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Nasby, England, of which body he was a licensed local preacher for four years. On June 10, 1841, at Clipston, Northamptonshire, England, he married Miss Ann Foster. In 1845 he immigrated to this country, landing in New York March 4, the day of President Polk's inauguration. In 1847 he was recommended to the traveling connection in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was received into the North Ohio Conference. When the present Central Ohio Conference was set apart in 1856, he being then a pastor within its bounds, became a member of it. His appointments were as follows: Greenville Circuit, Lima Circuit, Sidney, St. Mary's Circuit, Bellefontaine, Allentown Circuit, Lima, Richmond, Paterson Circuit, Findlay, Fremont, Bellefontaine District, Sidney, Carey, Dunkirk, Lafayette Circuit, Sylvania Circuit, Forest City. In 1884 he took a supernumerary relation, which was changed to superannuate in 1888. His ministry began in the days when hardship had to be endured. He traveled large circuits in all sorts of weather and over all sorts of roads. The compensation was small, and only the rich reward of obeying God's voice and standing as an ambassador of the great King could have retained him and all his contemporary itinerants in the ranks of the ministry. In his prime he was recognized as one of the leading preachers of his Conference. He filled five of its best stations, served one term as presiding elder, and in 1868 and 1872 was first reserve delegate to the General Conference. On the election of W. L. Harris to the episcopacy he took his seat in the Conference of 1872. Hundreds were converted and edified through him. Wherever he ministered his name is held in precious memory. He was a diligent student and pondered the greatest themes. His mind delighted to engage in continuous thought regarding the precious facts and mysteries of redemption. His deep cogitations tinged his public utterances, whether in testimony, preaching, or prayer, and made them forceful and striking. He was endowed with a musical voice and sweetly sang the songs of Zion. Deep reverence and piety were always evident in him. In his superannuation the Gospel would cause his face to shine, his eye to brighten, and his tears of joy to fall. His holy unction and choice expressions combined to make his public prayers most uplifting. When too feeble to preach, except at rare intervals, his life and faithfulness were a constant sermon. His wife died February 4, 1888, five children now surviving. On October 2, 1889, he married Mrs. Harriet Whiteside, who now mourns her loss. God evidently gave him premonition that his departure was drawing nigh. Several times in his last months he spoke words that evidenced this. His final sickness lasted a few days over three weeks. He bore it with Christian patience, and was ready to hear the "Well done" of his Master.

Holston Conference.

Samuel Greer died at his home in Anderson County, Tenn., October 9, 1897, at the age of more than fourscore years. In the war for the Union he was chaplain of the Eleventh Tennessee Volunteers, was taken prisoner, and was confined at Belle Island and Libby. He was received on trial in the Holston Conference in 1867, and was as true as the truest in the discharge of any duty required at his hands. To his God, his country, his Church, and his convictions he was as loyal as the needle to the polar star. His preaching was of a high character. His social life was such as to give him a place in the purest affections of those with whom he associated, and to-day he lives in the hearts of the people where he labored. He was effective until 1890, when he took a superannuated relation, which he retained until the Master called him home. His life was a success, his death a triumphant victory, and his rest must be glorious.

Columbia River Conference.

W. T. Koontz was born in Ohio March 22, 1835, and died in Athena, Ore., March 22, 1898. He was admitted on trial in the Oregon Conference in 1871, and fell into the work of the Columbia River Conference when it was organized. His first appointment was Waitsburg, Washington Territory. His early educational advantages were limited, but he brought to the work a strong personality, clear convictions, and mighty faith in God. He overcame difficulties which sometimes appeared insurmountable, and in his frontier work nothing seemed to discourage him. Failure was a word not to be found in his vocabulary. He reared his own monument in the building of a large number of churches, and leading probably hundreds of souls into the kingdom of grace. He manfully contended with his physical disease, and worked for the Master to the last.

George W. Barnhart was born in Indiana in 1862, but was raised in Wisconsin. Early in life he was left an orphan, and was brought up by his uncle, who was a Methodist. After his conversion the duty of preaching was forcibly impressed upon his mind, and after a severe struggle he yielded to his convictions. He came West to enter the Columbia River Conference, and was admitted to full connection in the Conference in 1897. He was there greatly beloved. God saw fit to remove him early to the Church triumphant, and in great peace he passed away on February 14, 1898, in Arlington, Ore.

East Tennessee Conference.

George W. Haden was one of whose early life little is known. The place and date of his birth are not ascertained, neither are we able to learn anything of his early religious life. He was admitted on trial in the East Tennessee Conference in 1892, and was admitted into full connection in 1894. He died July 9, 1898. Studious in habit, conscientious and energetic in the performance of his duties, faithful to the Church and to God, he lived an exemplary life and died in triumph.

Charles Boyd was born in the year 1845. The place and exact date of his birth are not known. When twelve years of age he was sold with a calf at Morristown, Tenn., and was taken South. He served two years in the Federal army. At the close of the war he returned to Tennessee. In 1875 he professed conversion; soon afterward he was licensed to preach, and in 1879 joined the Holston Conference. In October, 1880, with several others, he organized the East Tennessee Conference, under the presidency of Bishop E. O. Haven. He served as pastor on various charges until 1890, when he was appointed presiding elder of the Bristol District, which he served until 1895. He then served one year as pastor at Morristown. While in charge of that station his health declined so that at the next Conference he was compelled to ask for a superannuate relation. For nearly two years he was confined to his home because of illness. He suffered much but with great patience and faith. When the summons came on August 8, 1898, it found him trustful and joyful. Without a tremor or fear he passed to his reward. He was a man of force and energy, a good preacher, and strong in the faith.

Michigan Conference.

Thomas Lyon was born in Bethel, N. Y., September 30, 1819. When a young man he was happily converted and united with the Church. He early felt the call to the ministry, and after a thorough preparation began to preach, continuing to be thus occupied for twenty-eight years, when, with his wife, he came to Michigan. After preaching two or three years under the elder he joined the Michigan Conference on probation in 1854. His appointments were as follows: Mason, Charlotte, Ionia, St. Joseph, Homer, Hillsdale, Sturgis, Kalamazoo District, agent for Albion College, Quincy and Olivet. While on the Kalamazoo District he was seized with a throat difficulty, which compelled the giving up of the district and the taking of absolute rest. After repeated efforts to resume work he was obliged to take a supernumerary relation. He settled at Homer, Mich., in 1870, engaging in the banking business with much success, the secret of which was his untiring industry and perseverance as well as his skill in managing business affairs. He was twice married, first to Miss Susan Brown, who died in 1884, and, second, to Lottie L. Rice, of Sturgis, who survives him with one son. As a minister he was devoted, and great revivals followed his labors. He was also interested in the material welfare of his charges. At St. Joseph, under the most difficult circumstances, he built and paid for the church and parsonage. At Sturgis, Charlotte, and Hillsdale the churches stand as monuments to his untiring zeal and consecration. He was a good preacher, studying carefully his subjects, and with a divine unction preached the word of life. He was a man of will, but under a stern exterior there beat as warm a heart as throbbed in any bosom. The missionary cause received his close attention and generous contributions; the cause of education was never forgotten by him, and regularly received gifts from his hand. His ready money, generous heart, and active brain were also responsive to every call of the home Church. His call was sudden, but it found him ready to depart and be with Christ.

William T. Cook was born in Ontario April 6, 1861, and died in Buchanan, Mich., April 2, 1898. He was educated in the Ontario Normal School, and while there he was licensed to preach. In 1883 he came to Michigan and entered Albion College, where he remained three years. He then joined the Northwest Iowa Conference, and after preaching there two years returned to Albion and graduated in 1888. During that year he entered the Michigan Conference and was stationed at Richland and Saugatuck. In 1890 he was sent to Buchanan, where he remained two years. While there he married Miss Anna Estes, who with two sons, survives. He went from Buchanan to Alma, Springport, and Hanover. While at Hanover his physician decided that a change of climate was necessary, and he moved to Phœnix, Ariz., and supplied Glendale, remaining there two and one half years. While there, although disease was sapping his constitution, he labored in building a church and adding to the kingdom such as would be saved. Finally his broken voice obliged him to leave the pulpit, and he then returned East to Buchanan, much broken in health, and in a few weeks went home. There is but one honor worth seeking for, and that is to be known in the ranks of humanity and in the courts of heaven as a man. Such was William T. Cook.

D. O. Ball was born in the State of New York May 11, 1832, and died in Detroit, Mich., October 6, 1897. He was converted in his early boyhood and was soon licensed to preach. When he was nineteen he went to California and engaged in business. A part of his California life was spent in assisting the Rev. William (now Bishop) Taylor in evangelistic work. His assistance was largely rendered in singing on the street until the people collected, when the future Bishop of Africa would preach the Gospel with mighty power. While in California he married, and a son there born is his only surviving child. In 1860 he returned to Michigan and soon entered the Detroit Conference. In 1872 he was transferred to the Michigan Conference and filled the following appointments: Orleans, Morley, Lowell, Gilead, Burr Oak, Climax, Kalkasha, Pottersville, Petoskey. At his death he held a supernumerary relation. He had been visiting a niece at Detroit, and desiring to take an early train, went to the Hotel Wayne, leaving instructions to be called at an early hour. When called he did not respond, and when found the following day had been dead some hours. A post-mortem examination revealed a tumor on the brain, resulting in apoplexy. He rests beside his much-loved daughter in Riverside Cemetery, at Albion.

CHARLES H. FISHER was born in Dansville, Pa., January 7, 1830. When four years old his parents moved to Michigan and settled near Three Rivers. At the age of nine, in a gracious revival in the neighborhood, he with his parents was converted. He went to school as soon as one was established in the vicinity. Afterward he attended the union schools of Centerville and Three Rivers, completing his studies at Cedar Park Seminary. Feeling called to the ministry, he received license to preach from the Three Rivers Quarterly Conference in 1857, and began his ministerial work on the Reading Circuit. On April 15, 1858, he married Miss Martha M. Dart, who survives with precious memories and joyful hopes. Having spent one year in teaching, he was admitted on trial in the Michigan Conference in 1860 and was appointed to Assyria Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Waverly, Cooper, Wayland, Otisco, Palo, Oshtemo, Mattawan, White Pigeon, Hersey, Berlin, Lamont, and Grandville. Having rested a year, he then served Three Rivers, Bloomingdale, Fulton, Butler, La Grange, Vandalia, Marcellus, and Cooper. In 1888 he took a superannuate relation and came to his home near Marcellus, where he resided until his death. He preached a full Gospel. His was an aggressive and revival ministry. His spirit was genial, his piety fervent. In Marcellus everybody knew and loved him. About a year before his death his health became seriously impaired. Some four weeks preceding his departure he began to show signs of increasing feebleness. His strength gradually failed until December 15, 1897, when he peacefully fell asleep in Jesus. His latest testimony was one of undiminished faith in God. We cannot doubt that the angelic vision given him was but the prelude of the Master's greeting.

THOMAS H. JACOKES was born in Geneva, N. Y., October 1, 1820. His parents were persons of great intellectual and spiritual worth. His mother, especially, was a person of deep religious conviction, leaving the impress of her splendid character upon her children and seeing her three sons all become ministers of the Gospel. Following the footsteps of his brother, Daniel C. Jacokes, Thomas joined the Michigan Conference in 1845, taking Birmingham for his first appointment. In 1849 he was stationed at Ypsilanti. In 1851 his impaired health compelled him to take a supernumerary relation for one year, when he again entered the active work and was stationed at Niles. In 1853 he was appointed presiding elder. He faithfully discharged the duties of this office until 1855, when he again took the work of a pastor. In 1859 he was stationed at Kalamazoo, and was then appointed presiding elder of the Coldwater District. After four years he again returned to the pastorate and served successfully the charges at Battle Creek, Three Rivers, Benton Harbor, Hillsdale, Hastings, and Dowagiac. In 1879 he was once more appointed a presiding elder on the Lansing District. He was a delegate to the General Conferences of 1860 and 1884. On July 24, 1848, he married Laura Smith, who some years ago preceded him to heaven. He was a man of one work. His conduct and life were indeed worthy of a King's son. His countenance was always wreathed in light, as he held uninterrupted intercourse with his Lord. In the many responsible positions he held he always acquitted himself well. As a superannuate his last six years were those of ripening and not of decay in spiritual life. The spirit of calmness was enthroned within him, and his conversation was in heaven. At Eaton Rapids, on April 30, 1898, he heard the welcome summons to come home. The end was triumphant.

Norway Conference.

EDWARD H. AAS was born in Sande, in Jarlsberg, in 1864. He was received on trial in 1893, and in 1895 into full connection in the Conference. In 1897 he was ordained an elder, and in October of the same year he was called to his reward. He commenced in 1890 as a local preacher in Bamble, where several were brought to the Lord. He was then sent to Flekkefiord and Hittro, where he labored for three years. His last appointment was Egersund, and for a short time also Sandnes. He was a humble and good man. His testimony was hearty and warm. The Lord gave him a good voice, which he used in his Master's service. He says in a letter: "I must say I feel as one of the least of the Lord's servants, yet I wish to use the pound he has given me so that when the day comes I shall go forward and give account; I may then hear, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over little, I will set thee over much; go into the joy of thy Lord.' To this end may he give me grace for his name's sake." For thirteen long days he suffered extreme pain, but the Lord gave grace and victory. The last Sunday he spent on earth he called for his friends in the church at Egersund, and they had a never-to-be-forgotten time of worship in which our brother himself prayed with wonderful power. His last words to his wife were: "Have faith in the Lord; he is mighty." His wife and six uncared-for children are left behind.

East Ohio Conference.

ROBERT H. FINCH was born in Somerton, O., December 28, 1856, and died in Rogers, O., October 20, 1897. He was converted at sixteen and immediately united with the Church, which, till his death, he honored by his rich experience and manly character. Soon after his conversion he began work as Sunday school superintendent and class leader. Soon after he was licensed to preach. He served one year as a supply on Malaga Circuit, and was admitted to the East Ohio Conference on trial in 1888. His first appointment was Antioch, which charge he served three years. He was next appointed to Powhatan, where he remained four years. In 1896 he was appointed to Elkton, and in 1897 was returned for the second year. On October 1 he was taken sick, his illness soon proving to be typhoid fever accompanied with pneumonia. After twenty days God took him. He was a manly man, an earnest Christian, a devoted and successful preacher. He built up believers and won sinners to Christ. His first charge was among the people with whom he had done business as a merchant. His presiding elder said: "The strange thing is that the people who had the most business with him as a merchant are the people who love him most and have most confidence in him as a pastor." A few hours before he died he asked for tablet and pencil, and prepared an outline of a sermon he thought to preach in the near future. Thus, almost literally, he "ceased at once to work and live." A wife and son are left to mourn, but the heavy cloud of their sorrow is mellowed by the light of hope.

WILLIAM HUNT SEELY was born in Oneida County, N. Y., in 1820. He received his education at Norwalk Seminary, and entered the Methodist ministry in 1843. Joining the North Ohio Conference, he was appointed to Brooklyn, now a part of Cleveland. His later appointments were as follows: Fostoria, La Porte, Findlay, Bowling Green, Bellevue, Milan, Fremont, Medina, Wooster, Monroeville, Norwalk, Hanover Street and Taylor Street, Cleveland; Ashland, Tiffin, Monroeville, Kent, Forestville, N. Y.; Westfield, Madison, O.; Painesville, Perry, presiding elder Youngstown District, Jefferson, Garrettsville, Windham, Saybrook, and Kinsman Street. He retired in 1895, having given fifty-two years of faithful service to his Church. His labors were abundantly blessed in revivals and additions. He was greatly beloved by the churches he served. He was at one time on the board of control of Allegheny College, and was a delegate to the General Conference in 1884. Until his last sickness he was well and strong, and leaves the very remarkable record of having been absent from the pulpit but three times in fifty years. In 1847 he married Caroline D. Foote, who, after nearly fifty-two years, with an only daughter, Carrie, survives him. After a trying illness of nearly three years he died in Cleveland, August 17, 1898.

Ezra S. Gillette was born in Saybrook, O., January 2, 1826. He was converted and united with the Church at fourteen. He went to Kingsville Academy, and from there to Allegheny College. In 1856 he joined the Erie Conference on trial, and for nineteen years received his appointment to regular pastoral work. His pulpit ministrations were characterized by divine unction and power, and frequent revivals attended his ministry. In 1874 he became agent of the American Bible Society in Ohio, and for twenty-three years superintended this work with untiring fidelity. He died of congestion of the lungs, November 17, 1897, at Bowling Green, O. His departure was unexpected, but, like Elijah, he stepped into God's chariot, and went up to heaven, welcomed by hundreds who had been saved through his ministry.

Joseph H. White was born in Baltimore County, Md., May 22, 1813. When seventeen years old he moved with his parents to Harrison County, O. In March, 1835, he was converted at Chillicothe, and on July 4 he united with the Church in New Athens. In 1837, while a class leader at Fletcher Chapel, he was licensed as an exhorter. On December 20, 1837, he married Mary Ann Thomas. In 1850 he was licensed to preach. In 1852–53 he traveled Senecaville Circuit, and Coshockton Circuit in 1854–55. His ministry on the latter circuit was attended with wonderful success, over two hundred being converted. In 1855 he was admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference, and was appointed to West Chester Circuit. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Senecaville, Sharon and Sarahsville, Stafford, Salem, Newport, Morgan, Rich Hill, Waynesburg, Leavittsville, and Freeport. In 1876 he became a member of the East Ohio Conference, and served the following charges: Bellaire, Armstrongs, Sloans, Leavittsville, Kimbolton, Franklin Square, Pleasant Valley, and Irondale. In 1887 he was granted a superannuate relation. He was a man of pure, irreproachable life and a plain, practical minister of the Gospel. During the thirty-four years of his active ministry he missed only six appointments. After his retirement from the regular work he chose Salesville, O., as his residence. Here he lived for ten years, having the love of the entire community. Shortly after his return from the Conference of 1897 he had a paralytic stroke, which deprived him of the power of articulation, though his mind was clear. In the midst of his affliction he constantly praised God. He gradually grew worse, and on November 22, 1897, he passed away to greet the wife who had preceded him five years to the better world. He leaves a son and daughter to mourn his loss.

Moses Hill, D.D., was born in Bergen, N. Y., December 6, 1817, and died in Kalamazoo, Mich., January 21, 1898. His father died when he was but three, leaving a large family of children. As a lad he left home when but nine, and from that tender age supported himself. He lived on various farms and did what work he could, as was the custom of those early days. At seventeen he was converted in a Quarterly Meeting. Later he was appointed class leader, and was licensed to exhort. In June, 1837, he was licensed to preach, and was received into the Erie Conference the next fall. In 1845 and 1846 he was stationed at Meadville, and the two following years at Saegerstown, during which time he accomplished the entire course prescribed by Allegheny College, and graduated with the class of 1849, without interruption to his ministerial labors. He married Miss Adeline Reed at Oakfield, N. Y. He early became conspicuous, and received the best appointments in the Erie Conference. At the division of that Conference he fell into the East Ohio Conference. He was a delegate to four General Conferences—1856, 1860, 1864, 1872—where he exerted much influence. He was a member of the General Missionary Committee 1860–64, and represented our Church as fraternal delegate to the Methodist Episcopal Church in Canada. About 1877 he moved from Cleveland to Kalamazoo, and in his new home made many friends. He knew of the coming of death, but his faith was strong. Among his last testimonies were the words spoken to a friend: "I am passing through the valley of Baca, but am making it a well." Earnest and hopeful in all his life, he died in the full triumph of a Christian's faith.

George M. Wilson was born June 3, 1841, in Franklin Township, O. He was converted February 22, 1856, in Hines Chapel. He was soon impressed that his work was to preach the Gospel. August 16, 1863, he married Miss Mary Young. He was licensed to exhort March 4, 1871, and as a local preacher by McConnellsville District Conference August 31, 1872, being at once employed on the Stafford Circuit. In 1879 he was admitted to the East Ohio Conference. Thereafter his appointments were: Stafford, Caldwell, Summerfield, Washington, Quaker City, Hannibal, where in the midst of a glorious revival he was called home January 27, 1898. His intellect was keen, his will firm, his purpose high, his convictions strong, while his heart was large and tender. As a preacher he was direct and winning. Revivals attended his ministry, and the Church was built up. He was a valued contributor to the press, writing upon all the great questions of the day. He had just closed a temperance campaign which shut up the last saloons within his circuit. He then began a meeting at Sardis, preaching with a power which thrilled his hearers. While the altar was crowded with penitents and the songs of converts were filling the church with gladness, an abscess of the inner ear developed, which involved the brain, and closed his useful life after three days of great suffering. He leaves to his devoted wife and four sons—one of whom, Ernest E. Wilson, is a member of the East Ohio Conference—and to his four daughters, the legacy of a good name.

Wilmot C. Meek was born near Mount Zion Church, Pittsburg Conference, February 21, 1854, and died at Hendrysburg, O., February 19, 1898. He began his public life as a school-teacher at sixteen. The same winter he joined the Church. He graduated from the National Normal University, at Lebanon, in 1882. He was granted a local preacher's license in 1885, and in 1887 supplied the Bridgeport Circuit. In the fall of 1887 he was admitted to the East Ohio Conference. He served the following charges: Warrenton, Irondale, Demos, Hendrysburg. After the spring of 1897 he did little work, and for four months prior to his death was confined to his room struggling with Bright's disease. Willing to go or stay, the waiting and suffering until the spirit was freed were borne with Christian patience. He leaves a wife to mourn his departure.

Thomas B. Tait was born in North Beaver Township, Pa., June 15, 1815, and died in Niles, O., June 6, 1898. At sixteen he left the farm and learned the tailor's trade. Afterward he studied medicine at Darlington, Pa. Subsequent to his conversion, and in preparation for the ministry, he attended school at Poland, O. He married Miss Sarah J. Bridle, of Warren, O., April 29, 1847. He was brought up in the Presbyterian faith, but during a revival at Edenburg, in October, 1839, he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. His qualifications for the ministry were evidently soon recognized, for on the day he was received into full membership he was licensed to exhort, and at the following Quarterly Conference was licensed to preach. In July, 1852, he was received into the Erie Conference. His active ministry covered a period of forty years. During the war of the rebellion he spent about two months at the front in the Christian Commission. His ministry was highly useful, resulting in many conversions and in the strengthening of all the churches where he labored. He was a good preacher, a safe counselor, a wise teacher. In 1882 he took a superannuate relation, and afterward resided at Niles. Though severely afflicted for several years, he was never unhappy, and never complained. To him death was but the passport to life. He feared not, but triumphed.

Chicago German Conference.

Bartholomew Lampert was born August 3, 1846, near Mayfield, Wis., and died August 7, 1898. His father died while he was yet young. He was converted in his eleventh year during a revival, and then laid the foundation of a pious and consecrated life. He spent three years, from 1865 to 1868, at German Wallace College preparing for the ministry. In 1868 he was sent to his first charge, La Crosse and Tomah. In 1869 he entered commercial life as a bookkeeper, but, in spite of excellent prospects, again took up the service of the Church. For two years he served the Newton Circuit, and there married Maria Stock. After serving one year at Wheeling, Ill., he was called to a professorship at Galena College, remaining there two years. Thereafter he served as pastor at the following places: Portland Avenue, Aurora, and Blue Island. After this he again entered educational work, acting as instructor of German at Northwestern University. He was next appointed presiding elder of the Fond du Lac District, and was then sent to Maxwell Street Church. His next appointment was Second Church, Milwaukee. His health failing him, however, he was obliged to withdraw from the work. On resuming work in 1890 he was sent to Immanuel Church, Chicago, and after serving this congregation three years was appointed presiding elder of the Chicago District, in which position he labored his last five years. In 1896 he was a delegate to the General Conference. On returning from its session he complained of liver trouble, but continued his work until the fall of 1897, when he was compelled to consult a physician. In spite of medical treatment his condition continued to grow worse. On Sunday, July 10, 1898, he preached and administered the sacrament for the last time at Aurora, Ill. From then on he was confined to his bed for four weeks, dropsy setting in, besides the liver trouble, when the Lord called him home. His bereaved wife and six grown sons survive him. He was conscientious in the performance of his duties. His fervent delivery evinced his desire for the salvation of souls. He spent much time in visiting and praying with the sick, In his pastoral work he specially favored the poor, saying, "The rich have friends enough that visit them, but only a few call upon the poor." His last illness brought him great trials, but although he often fulfilled his duties under great suffering, he never murmured. After becoming aware that his days were numbered he said to his family: "I should like to recover and remain with you and continue my labors. If God wishes otherwise, however, then his will be done. He knows what is best for me and you." On the day of his death, in spite of his great suffering, he was engaged in prayer and thanksgiving. "Great God! My God! I am happy!" Such were the expressions he last uttered, and then in triumph his soul went to the heavenly home.

Fred C. Gruetzmacher was born in the Township of York, near Columbus, Wis., March 1, 1859. His parental home was frequently the abode of Methodist ministers. In his twelfth year he was thoroughly converted, and in after life often spoke of the happiness it brought to his youthful heart. It was his intention to enter business life, but yielding to the call to the ministry, he went to Berea, O., in the fall of 1879 to prepare for the work. Having spent three years in earnest preparation, he was received into the Chicago German Conference in the fall of 1882. His first appointment was Fort Atkinson, Wis., where he had a year of successful labor. In 1883 Aurora, Ill., was assigned him as a charge. While there he married Lydia Loeber, who, with two children, survives. In Aurora he labored two years with marked success, and after this served for two years each in La Porte, Ind., and Danville, Ill. In 1892 he was sent to Robey Street Church, Chicago. Here, in his second term, his health began to fail, and was rapidly undermined by his ceaseless activity. He was therefore sent to South Bend with the hope that his strength could there be repaired. Gradually, however, it became noticeable that consumption had laid its hand upon him. When he came to Chicago in 1897 to serve the Morgan Street Church the symptoms of the disease could clearly be seen. During the winter months he was not able to preach. In his last weeks of life his condition seemed much improved, and he cherished the hope that the approach of spring would bring him strength and health. But on April 18, 1898, after he had preached twice, severe hemorrhages set in, which continued until the last remnants of his strength were consumed. At this time he fully realized his near end, but clung to the desire of recovering for his family's sake and that of the work he loved so much, but his life rapidly ebbed away, and on May 1, 1898, his spirit ascended to heaven. In his death the Chicago Conference has lost a talented and successful member and the congregations a conscientious and consecrated pastor.

John Bauer. [Obituary not received.]

Central German Conference.

Jacob Rothweiler, D.D., was born December 3, 1824, in Berghausen, Baden, and died April 25, 1898, in New Albany, Ind., from the effects of a paralytic stroke. He came to America with his parents in 1839, who settled for a time in New York city, where he was apprenticed to learn the machinist's trade. He was converted on Christmas, 1841, in the Second Street German Church, and joined the Church. In 1846 he was received on probation into the Ohio Conference, being a classmate of Bishop Merrill. He married Louisa Grau October 1, 1850. Four children survive, the oldest of whom, Miss Louisa Rothweiler, is a missionary in Korea. He served the following appointments: Detroit, Mich.; Louisville, Ky.; Charleston Mission, Ind.; Rockford Mission, Ind.; Lawrenceburg, Ind.; Dayton, O.; Detroit, Mich., again; and Cleveland, O. In 1855 he became presiding elder of the North Ohio District, he then being a member of the North Ohio Conference. In 1859 he became professor of German in Baldwin University, Berea, O., where he remained eight years, founding during that time German Wallace College, and being cofounder of the German Methodist Orphanage at Berea. He became presiding elder of the North Ohio District of the Central German Conference in 1867, serving four years. His later appointments were: Berea, O.; Allegheny, Pa.; Cincinnati District; First Church, Indianapolis, Ind.; St. Paul's, Cleveland, O.; Columbus, O.; Cincinnati District; Newport, Ky.; and the Louisville District from 1894 till death closed his active ministry. He was seven times a member of the General Conference, namely, 1864, 1868, 1872, 1876, 1888, 1892, and 1896. Nature endowed him with a strong constitution and a tenacious will power. He possessed a keen discernment and strong, almost immovable, convictions But the main pillars of his character were sincere piety, honesty, and transparency. His practical tendencies, his diligence and endurance, his simplicity of life, his sympathy for all the benevolent institutions of the Church, his thorough knowledge of ecclesiastical law, and his innate administrative abilities fitted him for all the positions of honor with which the Church intrusted him. In the General Conference of 1864 he was especially interested in the organization of the German Conferences. For many years he was president of the board of trustees of the orphanage at Berea, O. He likewise considered the deaconess movement as one from which immense benefit would accrue to the Church, and, consequently, took an especial interest in the founding of the German Methodist Deaconess Home and Hospital at Louisville, Ky. In his spiritual development the practical, the Jameslike, was the more predominant. He laid stress on uprightness and loyalty to duty. He loved the Church of his choice, and consecrated to her interests all his powers.

William Geyer was born in the Palatinate, Germany, November 22, 1818, and died in Pomeroy, O., in August, 1898. His thorough common school education and grounding in the truths of the Bible formed a good foundation for the deep religious experience which he began in 1841, near Chester, O., after immigrating to America in 1834. He was twice married, his first wife being Susanna Elizabeth Ihle, his second, Elizabeth Priode. Having joined the Church, he was made class leader, exhorter, and local preacher, and joined the Ohio Conference in 1849, serving the following charges: Woodville and Toledo, Tiffin, Delaware Mission, and Clarington Circuit. On this circuit his health broke down, and he removed to his old home near Chester, O., remaining a superannuate for many years. In 1891 he removed to Pomeroy, O., where he went in and out in the congregation as a father in Israel, admonishing and exhorting. In his bodily afflictions he was resigned to the will of God. He leaves a widow and a number of sons and daughters.

Gustav Bertram was born in Germany June 17, 1823, and died in Ypsilanti, Mich., September 10, 1898. Before emigrating to this country he came under the influence of Methodist preaching, leaving Germany under deep conviction, and finding peace for his soul in the State of New York. Soon after his conversion he received exhorter's and local preacher's license. In the spring of 1855 he became assistant in Covington, Ky., and afterward served the following appointments: Lansing, Mich.; Lake Superior, Mich.; Detroit, Mich.; Port Huron, Mich.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Ann Arbor, Mich.; Lansing, Mich., again; Saginaw, Mich.; Lansing, Mich., again; Cleveland, O.; Lawrenceburg, Ind.; Hamilton, O.; Everett Street, Cincinnati, O.; Breckenridge Street, Louisville, Ky.; Henderson, Ky.; Freeport, Mich.; Goshen, Ind.; Marine City, Mich. He married Catherine Schmidt in 1859 at Woodville, O. His religious views were profound, and he was very conscientious in the performance of duty. In 1884 he passed through a severe sickness, from which he never quite rallied. In 1889 he superannuated and moved to Ypsilanti, Mich., intending to do missionary work among the Germans in that city, but the difficulties proved insurmountable to his strength. Four years ago the decay of his mental faculties manifested itself in weakness of thought, which apparently resulted from paralysis of the nerves. Ten days before his death a paralytic stroke robbed him of the power of speech, and death finally finished the work. He leaves a widow and son.

Southern Illinois Conference.

George W. Cullum was born February 17, 1816, in the Territory of Illinois, at Palestine, Crawford County. He was converted and joined the Church in his twelfth year. In 1837 he married Miss Caroline Woodworth, who died in 1843, one son surviving, J. E. Cullum, a local elder in our Church. He married Miss Miriam J. Mann, of Crawford County, Ill., February 24, 1846. Two sons and one daughter are living, the sons being A. D. Cullum, a member of the Southern Illinois Conference, and L. F. Cullum, a member of the Central Illinois Conference. His second wife died June 20, 1893. He was licensed to exhort June 14, 1840, and to preach in 1850. He was admitted to the Southern Illinois Conference in 1853, and served New Haven, Benton, Pinkneyville, Ewington, London City, Ramsey, Newton, Effingham, Watson, and New Hebron. In 1868 he took a supernumerary relation, which he retained for several years. He was then appointed to the Troy Charge, which he served for six months, and at the following Conference was granted a superannuate relation. After a short illness he died at the home of his son, A. D. Cullum, September 30, 1897.

Samuel Walker was born in Clinton County, Ill., four miles southwest of Carlyle, October 12, 1823, and died in Carlyle, October 16, 1897. On September 11, 1844, he married Parmelia Caroline Maxey, at Mount Vernon, Ill. He was wonderfully converted at the old Ridge camp ground when about thirteen years of age. He engaged at once in public worship, class meetings, and exhortation. He was regularly licensed to exhort July 20, 1851, and to preach March 3, 1855. He was admitted on trial in the Southern Illinois Conference in 1857. He served the following charges: New Liberty Circuit, Fairfield, Xenia. In 1862 he located and entered the service of the United States in the civil war. In 1864 he was readmitted, and his appointments were as follows: Sandoval, Kane, Elsah, Gillespie, Staunton, Troy, Trenton, Shiloh, Clement (now Huey), Mulberry Grove, Freeburg, Wisetown, Clement, Troy again, Venice. After active service of thirty-four years his health so failed that he took a supernumerary relation in 1888, and continued in that relation until 1896, when he took a superannuate relation. His efficiency in the ministry is attested by the records. He was respected by even the enemies of religion, was trusted and loved by his friends of mature years, and was idolized by the children. He leaves a wife, one daughter, and three sons. Being faithful in that which was least, he has been called to the greater reward on high.

Asa Snell was born in Staunton, Ill., October 9, 1827. He married Miss Matilda Dees March 1, 1849. He joined the Church January 22, 1848, and was licensed to exhort in 1849 and to preach in 1853. He entered the Southern Illinois Conference on trial in 1855. In his thirty-nine years of active service in the itinerancy he served the following charges: Trenton, Central City, Staunton, Gillespie, Ashley, Eagle Cliff, Pocahontas, Ramsey, Staunton again, Edwardsville Circuit, Elsah, Benton, Staunton again, Ramsey, Anna, Patoka, Louisville, Wakefield, Donnellson, Wanda, Miles, Du Quoin Circuit, Tamaroa, Sparta and Steeleville, Hodges Park, Spring Garden, Opdyke. In 1894 he was superannuated, and continued in this relation until his death, July 19, 1898. He was a man of sound judgment, a safe counselor, a humble Christian, a true Methodist preacher.

J. W. McIntosh was born near Mount Vernon, Ind., March 30, 1841, and died in Grayville, Ill., September 27, 1898. He was converted when a boy at a Methodist meeting in a schoolhouse, and united with the Baptist Church. He married Miss Nancy J. Hendricks, February 12, 1858. His early opportunities for gaining an education were very meager, but while toiling on the farm qualified himself to teach, and then followed this work for a number of years. He was licensed to preach by the Mount Olivet General Baptist Association of Hamilton County, Ill., in 1866, and served that Church faithfully until 1879, when he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was recognized as an elder. He traveled the following charges as supply: Woodlawn, Cobden, Steelville. In 1882 he was admitted on trial in the traveling connection and appointed to Benton. He afterward filled the following charges: Corinth, Johnsonville, Mount Erie, Lancaster, Shiloh and O'Fallon, Freeburg, Nashville, Harrisburg. His health beginning to fail, he went South, and was transferred to the St. John's River Conference in February, 1896, and appointed to New Smyrna. In 1897 he was sent to Lake Como, where he broke down. He was transferred back to the Southern Illinois Conference and given a superannuate relation; he then returned to Illinois and settled at Grayville, where he remained until his death. Two of his sons, S. A. and W. D., are members of the Southern Illinois Conference. He was a sweet-spirited and judicious pastor and a forcible preacher. While at Nashville he entered into the deeper experience of perfect love. He was successful in his ministry, and many in the last day will rise up and call him blessed.

John L. Keplinger was born in Macoupin County, Ill., September 22, 1873, and died in Frankfort, Ill., September 3, 1898. He was brought up on a farm. He received careful religious training from his pious Methodist parents, and at eleven was converted and joined the Church. He was active in all church work, teaching in the Sunday school and leading class and prayer meetings. At seventeen he entered McKendree College, but on account of trouble with his eyes after three years was compelled to return to the farm. Under a skilful oculist his eyes were greatly improved, and he felt that he must preach. In the summer of 1896 he was licensed to preach, and in the following fall was admitted on trial in the Southern Illinois Conference and appointed pastor of Tamaroa Circuit. The next year he was appointed to Frankfort Circuit, where he finished his brief itinerant life. He was a diligent student, a good preacher, an earnest pastor, and his labors were abundantly blessed in the conversion of sinners and the building up of believers. Ninety conversions were the fruits of his labor on Frankfort Circuit. He married Miss Ida M. Fuller, of Hornsby, Ill., September 1, 1896. His religious experience was clear, and when the end came there were no clouds in his sky. Bidding his loved ones farewell, he joined in several of his favorite hymns and passed away in great peace.

West Wisconsin Conference.

William E. Doughty was born in Hudson, Ill., July 3, 1840, and died in Altoona, Wis., March 8, 1898. When nine years of age he was soundly converted in the old-fashioned way. He early felt a call to the ministry, but through a sense of inefficiency did not yield until grown to mature years. Finally he could hold out no more, and, with his wife and four children, left his farm and entered a field of wider usefulness. Rock Falls was his first appointment. Then followed Cadott Falls, Eau Claire Circuit, Sechlerville, Mondevi, Loyal, Belmont, Bloomington, Maiden Rock, Eau Galle, and Whitehall. Although in seeming health, he was a patient sufferer for a number of years, and finally, when serious disease took hold of him, seemed to give up every desire to live, and sank rapidly away. He was a man of fervent piety, of pure life and speech. As a pastor he was faithful and judicious. In his sermons he was instructive, tender, and winning. He invariably won the confidence of the community where he labored. Like his Master, the little children loved him, and were attracted toward him. He was buried in Durand, Wis.

Guilford Dudley Browne was born in Acworth, N. H., August 8, 1828, and died in Mondovi, Wis., January 5, 1898. He belonged to the eighth generation of the descendants of Abraham Browne, who came from Burry St. Edmunds, England, in 1630, and were the first settlers in Watertown, Mass. He was brought up in the Congregational Church. The common schools, with two or three terms in the village academy, were his only educational advantages, but by diligence in study he stored his mind with much information, making him in the pulpit a safe and useful teacher, and in private conversation an instructive companion. He was converted in 1842 in Marlow, N, H., and soon afterward joined our Church, and was assigned to a class under the leadership of the father of the late Bishop Baker. In 1852 he married Miss Mary E. Fisher, of Hartford, Conn. Four sons and a daughter are still living. He was licensed to preach in Hartford, Conn, in 1851. For a number of years he was undecided about entering the regular ministry through a sense of unworthiness and unfitness. But coming home one day he found his wife in tears, and on inquiring the cause she replied, "I thought when we were married I was marrying a Methodist preacher." The words led him to yield to the convictions that had long followed him, and he accepted work as supply in the New York East Conference, at Southington, Conn. Here God greatly blessed him, enabling him to organize the first year a class of over fifty members, which soon became a church. He served two other charges in the same Conference. In 1861 he took work in the New England Conference, and there served successfully until 1868, when he joined the West Wisconsin Conference on trial, completing his course of study in three years. His appointments in that Conference were as follows: Barstow Street, Eau Claire; Menomonee, Durand, Sparta Circuit, Arkansaw, Fairchild, Mondovi, Durand, Sechlerville, Arcadia, Knapp. On all these charges he toiled earnestly, though sometimes in poor health. In 1890 he retired from active work and went with his wife to Mondovi, Wis., to live with their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Thomas, in whose home he died. On January 2, 1898, a marked change came over him, and from that time he rapidly failed. On the day of his death, in response to an inquiry, he raised his hand, waved it in triumph, whispered, "All is clear," and in a few hours quietly passed away.

Richard Dudgeon was born in Jefferson County, O., on August 26, 1827. He received a good academic education in New Richmond, O., and in 1849 came to Wisconsin. In 1851 he married Miss Dilla Ball, and the same year was admitted on trial in the Wisconsin Conference, which then included all the territory of Wisconsin and Minnesota. For the first three or four years his appointments were in Minnesota, upon the extreme frontier. Indians were everywhere, settlements were far between, his rides were long, and many were the trying scenes through which he passed with his young family. He was not a man of robust physical constitution, and many times went to his appointments and preached when it required all his power of will to keep in the path of duty. In 1864 he was appointed presiding elder of Kilbourn City District, and in 1872 was placed on the Prairie du Chien District. His greatest power was seen in the exercise of his fine business qualities. He never left a charge without having improved the business tact of its membership. Mr. Wesley made preachers promise to break an arm rather than disappoint a congregation, and Richard Dudgeon lived and acted upon this idea all his life. He had an overwhelming craving for all knowledge that would help him in his Master's work, and was sometimes seen reading the Greek New Testament while riding in his buggy from one appointment to another. His library was among the finest of the preachers of early Methodism in Wisconsin. He was a hard worker in his Master's vineyard. Seldom has anyone accomplished as much as he when we consider his physical limitations. On Tuesday, September 13, 1898, he passed from earth to heaven. His last effort was to go through with a prayer, as in family devotion, followed by the Lord's Prayer, and then by some of his childhood prayers. With an unfinished prayer upon his lips his spirit went to the home above.

Matthew Dinsdale was born in Askrigg, England, July 14, 1815. In 1842 he was converted, united with the Wesleyan Methodist Church, and at once began to preach. He came to the United States in 1845. Uniting with our Church, he entered Rock River Conference, and was appointed to Potosi, Wis. In 1846 he was sent to Winnebago Lake Mission, which embraced the whole of Winnebago County. His health failing, he retired from the ministry. In the fall of 1849 he went to California, remaining there over two years. Thence he returned to England, and in 1853 married Mary Ann Mann. Returning to the United States, he engaged in mercantile business until 1858. At that session of the West Wisconsin Conference he was received on trial, and afterward filled the following appointments: Highland, Washburn, Ridgeway, Elk Grove, Lancaster, Hazel Green, Shullsburg, Darlington, Fayette, Middleton, Poynette, Verona, and Dane. Owing to his wife's failing health he then took a supernumerary relation, and at the Conference of 1897 became superannuated. Two years ago his wife died, and one child only survives. His preaching was eminently practical and spiritual, and all his ministrations were of a devout character. He died in Linden, Iowa County, April 15, 1898.

Manning Brown Balch was born in Pownal, Vt., in September, 1836, and died in Minneapolis, Minn., March 26, 1898. On his father's side he was a descendant from the Puritan families who came to Massachusetts in 1623. He received his education at Poultney Academy, Vermont. While still a youth he came with his parents to Saratoga, N. Y. At eleven he was converted and joined the Church. The great world tides of Saratoga flowed too strongly, however, for the boy Christian, and for many years he wandered from the vows and faith of his childhood. In 1859 he married Miss Clementine Wager, whose early death left a deep heart wound. After her death he served for a time in the civil war. At its close he came to Wisconsin, and in 1867 married Miss Hattie L. Monroe, who, with her only son, W. M. Balch, of the West Wisconsin Conference, mourns for him. By nature and training he was an orator, and for several years used his rare gift in lecturing on temperance in Massachusetts and Wisconsin. He was licensed to preach in 1870, and the same year supplied the church in Madison, the pastor having died. He joined the West Wisconsin Conference in 1870, and served the following appointments: First Church, La Crosse, two terms; Black River Falls, two pastorates; Lake Street, Eau Claire; Mineral Point, and Mauston. He also served two terms as presiding elder of La Crosse District, and on Madison District one term. He was a delegate to the General Conference in 1892, and served one term as the chaplain of the Wisconsin Department of the Grand Army of the Republic. In 1897 he took a superannuate relation, hoping that rest and time might aid him in recovery. After three months of illness he expressed himself as ready by a life consecration for "death, the end of fears." His prayer was that he might pass the vale of shadows without great struggle and without the bitterness of parting with those dear to him. God answered the prayer, and in peace his soul crossed to the shore of light. He was a well-trained musician, and for some time gave instruction as a teacher of instrumental music. His friends will remember many occasions made pleasant by his expert use of the piano. For many years he played church organs, and never seemed more at home than when rendering for a company of competent singers the great hymns of our faith. He early won the name of being one of the most polished preachers in his Conference. His custom was to write his sermons and as a rule to read them. He was well trained in elocution, and as a reader of his own finished productions rose easily to peership with the masters in the use of a manuscript. He was a faithful and wise pastor, and knew to the point of inspiration the history, polity, and doctrine of Methodism. When, at the request of the men of the district, he was appointed presiding elder he readily adapted himself to the trying duties of the office. His self-control, reserve power, and courage in intense moments made him a safe administrator. He was quite at home anywhere on his district, seeming as content in the most distant rural parish as in the city. He was buried at Saratoga by the side of his parents, who had previously passed to the land of spirits.

Wisconsin Conference.

Stephen A. Olin came of an honored family, being the brother of the late Dr. W. H. Olin, of the Central New York Conference, and the namesake of an illustrious ancestor, Stephen Olin. He united with the Wisconsin Conference in 1871, and was stationed at Monticello. His after appointments were: Wautoma, Plover, Hortonville, Berlin, Brandon, Ripon, Sharon, Edgerton, Delavan, and Clintonville. His life was abundant in labors. Many will rise up and call him blessed who were converted or comforted under his ministry. He was ready to go anywhere, at any time, to lead some wandering soul to Christ. Not even the most wicked of a community could escape the influence of his great, loving nature. He was a godly man and a good preacher. He had preached but four Sabbaths at his last appointment when he was taken sick. For nine weeks he was a great sufferer, but was wonderfully sustained by grace. As his experience in health had been triumphant, his death was also victorious. When asked as to his state of mind he answered, "It is just as clear as daylight." In his last moments he asked his wife to sing "Christ is mine," and during the hymn took his departure. He died January 24, 1898.

George Parsons was born in Cornwall, England, January 21, 1823. At seventeen he felt called to do special religious work, and soon began to exercise the functions of a local preacher. In December, 1846, he married Agnes Hicks, in Copthorn, Devonshire, England. On August 5, 1850, he left England to find a home in the New World, and on October 3 arrived in Milwaukee. He settled for a while in Waukesha County, Wis., where he labored as a local preacher while engaged in farming. But he soon entered the regular ministry, and for six years preached in Sugar Creek and Elkhorn. He then removed to Canada, where he united with the Bible Christian Church, was appointed to missionary work in Wisconsin, and for five years labored with excellent success in the vicinity of Waukesha. He then moved to Vineland, N. J., remaining there two years, when he returned to Wisconsin and became a member of the Wisconsin Conference in 1870. During the twenty-five years that followed he served the following charges: Hebron, West Bend, Wilmot and Salem, Port Washington, Somers and Sylvania, Bristol, Menomonee Falls, North Prairie, Pewaukee, and Pleasant Prairie. In 1895 he took a superannuate relation, and afterward lived in his own home in Menomonee Falls, where he was highly esteemed. His was a most useful and devoted life. Many souls were won for the kingdom of God through his instrumentality. For several months before his death he was a great sufferer from heart disease. He was ready for the summons, and died September 29, 1897. A wife, one son, and two daughters remain to mourn his departure.

ROBERT BLACKBURN was born in Bentham, England, June 2, 1826, and died in West De Pere, Wis., June 26, 1898. His parents, with seven children, came to America in 1845, and settled in the Territory of Wisconsin. The son, Robert, was converted at sixteen, and joined the Wesleyan Society in England. At his new home in Wisconsin he immediately united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, was licensed as an exhorter and local preacher in 1850. In the same year he joined the Wisconsin Conference, and continued in the active work until 1884. He married in his early ministry Miss Louisa Hills, who died in Atkinson, Neb. In December, 1897, he married Mrs. Martha S. Robotham, of De Pere, Wis. He was a devoted and efficient minister of the Gospel. In 1884 he asked for a supernumerary relation, and removed to Nebraska. He then served a number of charges in the Northwest Nebraska Conference, but failing health caused him to ask for a superannuate relation. During the years of drought and financial distress in Nebraska he wrote to his friends in Wisconsin and elsewhere and secured supplies to aid the suffering. His home was made a distributing depot, and many families were clothed and fed. He frequently referred to his early conversion, and then would modestly speak of the great baptism of the Spirit that came to him many years ago. He was an earnest expounder of Christian holiness as taught by the fathers of Methodism. During his six months' residence in De Pere he endeared himself to many, He was taken suddenly ill of apoplexy on Sunday morning, June 26, 1898, after family prayer had been conducted by himself, and in a little time was gone. He walked with God in his daily life, and the summons found him ready.

[This obituary was omitted last year.]

CALEB D. PILLSBURY was born in Kingsfield, Me., December 13, 1817. In 1840 he was converted, and the same year joined the East Maine Conference and married Miss Orpha M. Curtis, who died in 1887. His record in Maine was twelve years of useful service in the pastorate, a year as agent of the East Maine Seminary, and four years on the Bangor District. He was also a delegate to the General Conference of 1856. In 1857 he was transferred to the Wisconsin Conference. For two years he was pastor at Racine, and for four years served the Racine District. A year in the army as chaplain of the Twenty-second Regiment followed, during which he was for a short time a prisoner. Then followed a year at Beloit, a year in the service of the Northwestern Freedmen's Aid Society, in which he raised about $12,000; three years on the Janesville District, and four years on the Milwaukee; a pastorate at Bay View and other places, ending at Ripon in 1882; and then a short interval on the retired list, aiding his son-in-law on a newspaper in Fond du Lac. He completed his itinerant labors at the age of sixty-five. Three times he represented the Wisconsin Conference in the General Conference. For many years he was a trustee of Lawrence University. In 1871 he procured the charter of the Wisconsin Conference Board of Trustees, and was president of the board for twenty-one years. He possessed an eminently sound judgment of men and measures. His administration was wisely careful and progressively conservative. His sermons, strong in thought, were ever carefully prepared. His care for others, his great Christian love, gave him a large place in all hearts. After leaving the effective ministry he resided in Minneapolis, and was long chaplain of the Morgan Post of the Grand Army. He was greatly beloved in his adopted city. After a long illness, during which Christian cheerfulness beamed in every word, he died April 22, 1897, at the home of his son in Duluth, Minn.

Rock River Conference.

WILLIAM HENRY HAIGHT was born in Cazenovia, N. Y., December 12, 1838. He was converted at nineteen, and united with the Church. He received his academic education in the Cazenovia Seminary, and his theological training in the Garrett Biblical Institute, graduating in 1863. He was admitted on trial in the Rock River Conference the same year. His appointments were as follows: Oregon and Grand De Tour, Mount Pleasant, Oswego, Arlington and La Moille, Paw Paw, Belvidere, Pecatonica, New Milford, Roscoe, Fielding and Monroe, Grace, Elgin; Winnebago Street, Rockford; the Rockford District, and Embury, Freeport. He was in his second year as pastor of the latter church when he was stricken with apoplexy and disabled for service. Other difficulties developed, and while at the Battle Creek Sanitarium, Chicago, on October 5, 1897, he became entirely paralyzed on his left side. He grew rapidly worse until October 20, when his spirit passed away. In 1864 he married Miss Mary L. Wild, who died in 1874. In October, 1875, he married Miss Fanny F. Gould, who, with four children, survives him. His social qualities were highly developed; in conversation he was a master. As a preacher he was plain, practical, and scriptural. The Bible was his text-book, and "Jesus and him crucified" was his theme. He was a good man and a good minister of our Lord. His end was triumphant.

MINER RAYMOND, D.D., LL.D., was born in New York city in 1811. His father removing soon afterward to Rensselaer village, the lad grew up among the foothills of the Catskills. The poverty of his home early doomed him to the shoemaker's bench. He carried this, however, to Wilbraham, Mass., and with it made his way through that academy, where the bench remains to this day as a witness of the industry of the youth who entered the school as pupil, remained in it as teacher, and left it as its principal. At seventeen he received the spirit of adoption. In 1838 he was admitted on trial in the New England Conference, and soon acquired note as a preacher. His presence suggested power and unlimited reserve. His winning face, his rich voice, his gentle manliness, captured instant favor, while his lucid speech and luminous thought marked him as a master thinker. He combined the teacher always with the preacher, and this made him powerful alike in the class room and the pulpit. As pastor of a Methodist church in Boston or as principal of Wilbraham Academy he charmed and commanded. He had great executive ability. When Wilbraham must be rebuilt he summoned the generous Methodists of New England to broader foundations and a larger future for the academy. He was a member of six General Conferences. In the Indianapolis struggle over slavery in 1856 authority was thrust upon him. In his report as chairman of the committee on slavery and in his speeches in its defense he bore aloft the banner of freedom with a beautiful dignity. The thing to do, he said, was to do right. The trustees of Garrett Biblical Institute elected him in 1864 to the chair of systematic theology. A generation of Methodist preachers have since arisen to applaud and vindicate their wisdom. He knew how to think and how to inspire thinking. He did not dazzle, he illuminated. He made men see old things in new relations, and things they had never seen at all, and he made them surer of any truth they had perceived already. His three volumes of systematic theology are a noble presentation of Arminian doctrine. He was tolerant of every difference and divinely fair to every form of doctrine. Thinking freely for himself, he cared to fetter no man. He called no system perfect and no theologian master. He loved God with all his mind, but his service was perfect liberty. He continued his work in Garrett until his eighty-fourth year, when a serious illness impaired his intellect and left a cloud upon his hitherto cheerful spirit. His children and grandchildren loved and cherished him, his colleagues revered him, the community of Evanston esteemed him, his pupils worshiped him almost, and the whole Church delighted in his praise. God gave him a glorious departure. In the last weeks of his stay upon earth the clouds dispersed. Quite unconscious that the end was near, he spoke to his sons the night before he died of his broad and deep theology and of his eternal hope. Looking backward he had nothing to regret, looking forward he had nothing to fear. He had sought from his childhood to know God and Jesus Christ, and this knowledge had been to him the beginning of eternal life. The next day, November 25, 1897, Thanksgiving Day, he finished quietly his earthly career.

Robert Kendall Bibbins was born in Salem, Pa., April 21, 1824, and died in Sandwich, Ill., March 22, 1898. When a young man with his people he came West and settled in Newark, Ill. His father, Rev. Elisha Bibbins, a member of the Wyoming Conference, was superannuated before coming to Illinois. He was converted at fifteen and licensed as an exhorter when seventeen. He became a member of Rock River Conference in 1847. His fields of labor comprised twenty-five charges, as follows: Sycamore, Lee Center, Elgin, Cherry Valley, Chemung, Lighthouse Point, Pecatonica, Newark, Oswego, Evanston, Plainfield, Wilmington, Manteno, Channahon, Morris, Minooka, Plattville, Channahon again, Mokena, Lemont, Freedom, Millington, Seneca, Lisbon, Wilton Center. In 1891 he took a superannuate relation and settled in Sandwich, where he resided until his death. On September 25, 1850, he married Harriet L. Cogswell, who, with two children, yet survives. He was a man of quiet demeanor, deep feeling, broad sympathy, and settled principles of justice. His last sickness of two months was a time of great suffering and yet of great peace. Even in the severest pain he triumphed through the same Gospel that he had preached to others, and at last passed peacefully to be at home with the Lord. Few, in closing up their life work, have so large a circle of friends on both sides of the river as this faithful minister.

Thomas Cochran was born in Cambridge, Vt., April 19, 1820. His grandfather was a colonel in the Revolutionary War. In his boyhood the family moved to Ohio, where he was converted at the age of eighteen. He was licensed to preach in 1842, and was received into full connection in the Rock River Conference in 1855. He served the following charges with much acceptability: Dundee, Niles Circuit, Wheeling Circuit, Wheaton, Kaneville, Rochelle, Arlington Heights, Lena, Durand, Lanark, Mount Carroll, Lisbon, Apple River, Malden, Scales Mound, Thompson, and Oswego. In the memorada he kept it appears that several hundred were converted under his ministry. In 1884 he took a superannuate relation and went to Iowa, and thence to Salem, Ore., where he was living with his son when God called him away, August 10, 1898. In 1844 he married Miss Susan Gurley, daughter of William Gurley, the first local preacher licensed by John Wesley in the north of Ireland. She yet survives him, as do also a son and daughter. One who knew him writes as follows: "The Bible and hymn book he knew almost by heart. In the first year of his ministry he read the Bible through on his knees and prayed over every line and word. During his life he read the Old Testament through fifty times, and for forty years he read the New Testament through four times a year. He was 'like a tree planted by the rivers of water.' The Bible was the soil in which he grew; God was his animating life; truth was the sap which flowed up into his character and conduct; and his fruit was holiness and everlasting life." His dying testimony was, "Death hath no terrors for me; in Christ pain and terror and death are destroyed."

Caleb Foster was born on the banks of the Allegheny River, Venango County, Pa., February 14, 1812. His father was a soldier in the war of 1812. The influence of a pious home was not lost on his heart. At seventeen he was soundly converted, and immediately desired an education. With this end in view he went to Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., remaining there for several years. In 1836 he joined the Erie Conference on its organization. Transferred to the Pittsburg Conference, he served Florence Circuit, Kittanning, Fresh Creek Mission, in Virginia; Harrison and Linn Circuits, in West Virginia. Reentering his old Conference he was stationed at Blairsville, where he married Miss Pamelia Jane Waterman. Other charges served were: East Liberty, Chartier, Asbury Chapel, Pittsburg; Brownsville, Monongahela City, and Asbury Chapel for a second time. In 1854 he was transferred to the Rock River Conference, and was stationed at Peoria and Canton. By the division of the Conference he fell within the bounds of the Illinois Conference. Preferring the Rock River Conference, he located and removed to Ottawa for a year. Entering again his old Conference, he served as pastor at Mendota, Sandwich, and Oswego. In 1863 he was appointed financial agent of Jennings Seminary, at Aurora, then called Clark Seminary, and in three years raised $18,000. In 1871 he was appointed agent of the American Bible Society, and continued in this work without interruption until his death. We doubt if the Bible Society ever had a truer friend. He loved its work because he loved the Bible and felt profoundly the value of its great truths. His efficiency, notwithstanding his advanced years, is attested by the length of time he continued in the work. As a minister of the Gospel he was successful in the best sense. His noble presence was accompanied with a voice of great compass, and when moved by emotion his whole bearing became commanding and convincing. He is to be numbered among the consecrated men who did so much to lay the foundations of the Church deep and strong in the land. He was an enthusiastic advocate of Christian education, and at his death was the oldest trustee of Jennings Seminary. As a man he was universally beloved. His genial spirit made his presence always welcome. He was a man of faith, who enjoyed religion and whose walk was with God. Long after the period when most men feel they must rest from active labor he was moving from place to place like the apocalyptic angel, carrying to men the everlasting Gospel. While absent from home in Rockford he was taken suddenly ill from exposure to excessive heat, and was taken to the hospital. As soon as able he was moved to his home in Aurora. It soon became evident that his course was drawing to its close. Loving and enjoying life, he was also willing to die. "I have no fear," he said, "it is all right." And so surrounded by those nearest and dearest to him, on September 8, 1898, he peacefully fell asleep.

Pittsburg Conference.

John G. Gogley was born in Eventle, Pa., April 19, 1837. He was carefully trained in religion, and at sixteen was converted. He was a student at Rainsford Seminary, from which he was graduated. On January 8, 1859, he was licensed to preach in Cumberland District, East Baltimore Conference. Going West, he was admitted into the Pittsburg Conference in 1861. His first appointment was as junior preacher on Ebensburg Circuit. Subsequently he served Bradley Chapel, Pittsburg, Claysville, Independence, Carmichaels, California, Fayette City, Enon Valley, and Freedom. In 1878 he took a supernumerary relation, in which he continued for two years. Entering the effective ranks again in 1880, he was appointed to Millsboro, and afterward served Beallsville, St. Paul's, Pittsburg; Ames, Pittsburg; Dawson, Duquesne and Duquesne Heights, Pittsburg. He was one of the first to serve the full term of five years after the term was extended. His appointment to Duquesne Heights proved his last. During the early part of the year he began to feel the effects of the malady which terminated his life. On Sunday morning, July 4, he entered his pulpit for the last time. With unusual power and tenderness he delivered his final message from the words, "Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul." In the afternoon he was taken violently ill, and from that hour suffered intensely but heroically. When informed by his physician that he could not recover he calmly replied: "Well, doctor, I am ready to go. I would like to live a few more years for my family and the Church, but it is all right." In this spirit he continued until October 20, 1897, when he calmly "fell on sleep." As a preacher he was thoughtful and eminently scriptural. His marked characteristics were patience, sincerity, and simplicity. He was an upright Christian man of unblemished character. He married June 6, 1865, Miss Hannah P. Day, of Washington County, Pa., who with their four children mourns his death.

Joseph Jackson Hays died in Manor Station, Pa., May 1, 1898, aged seventy years. He was born in Donegal, Pa., where his earlier years were spent. At about seventeen he was converted and at once became distinguished for zeal and eloquence in prayer and exhortation. At eighteen he was licensed a local preacher, and in 1855 was admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. He married March 13, 1848, Miss Sarah A. Barnhart, of Mount Pleasant. She having died, he married Miss Rebecca J. Fisher, of Pleasant Unity, September 8, 1870. About a year and a half before his death he was granted a superannuate relation on account of failing health. During his forty-two years in the effective ranks he occupied many excellent charges, in which he witnessed the salvation of many souls. For several months before his death he suffered much, but bore all patiently, having resigned himself fully to the will of God. He was a man of decided characteristics. One of these was his earnestness; he did everything with his whole heart. His sincerity and candor were apparent to all. He was a man of strong convictions, and never wavered between two opinions. He had a generous disposition and an unassuming manner. He was a good preacher, and often became grandly and powerfully eloquent. This was not the result of studied effort to produce effect, but was the spontaneous outflow of a soul on fire with love to God and yearning to save men's souls. His prayers also were at times wonderful. As might be expected, his ministry was unusually successful, many souls being saved through his agency.

David M. Hollister was born in Woodsfield, O., October 12, 1828. His ancestors were participants in the Revolutionary struggle, and he was a member of the Pittsburg Conference Association of the "Sons of the Revolution." His parents were among the pioneer Methodists of Monroe County, and were widely known for integrity and piety. One of his brothers, John J. Hollister, is doing effective service in the East Ohio Conference. After due preparation he was admitted to the bar. In the winter of 1852, during a revival in his native town, he was converted and received into the Church, with many of his comrades in the legal fraternity. Soon he began to prepare for the ministry by attending the theological school at Berea, O., in which place he married Miss Laura McClarren in 1857, who with two daughters survives. In 1857 he joined the Pittsburg Conference and for forty-two years was engaged in the active work of the ministry. He was a man of genial disposition. Although advancing in years, time sat lightly upon him. He kept his heart young. He was assigned to Shady Park, a charge in Braddock, Pa., at the Conference of 1897, and soon won the affection of his people. A gracious revival followed, and many united with the Church. He seemed to renew his spiritual strength with his advance in years. His last sermon, on the shining of Moses's face, made a profound impression. The ailment, which at first seemed slight, developed into neuralgia of the heart, which proved mortal, and he yielded his spirit May 4, 1898. A widow and two daughters survive.

Launcelot Robinson Beacom was born in Pittsburg, Pa., April 27, 1824. At fifteen he was brought to accept Christ as a Saviour. Four years later he removed to Somerset, and after two years to Uniontown. In 1847, at a Quarterly Conference at Connellsville, he received license as a local preacher, and at the Pittsburg Conference in 1849 he was received into the traveling connection. For forty-nine years he continued his ministerial labors without a break. Death's call to him was startlingly sudden. On Friday, the last day of his life, he was in his usual health, having done considerable pastoral work, and in the evening was cheerful and retired at the usual time. About one o'clock in the morning he became unconscious, and, without a word, passed from toil to reward. On November 25, 1845, he married Miss Malvena Reising, of Somerset, who survives. His heart ever continued young. He had a perfect contempt for meanness of every kind and name. He knew no fear. Anything dishonest or wrong in the church must be brought to light. His moral heroism was phenomenal and his will was iron. The chief theme of his sermons was the love of God manifested in the gift of his Son. His discourses were rich in evangelical truth, clear and scriptural, full of force and fervor. His last pulpit service was on Easter Sunday. The text he had selected for the next Sabbath morning was, "And thou shalt be missed, because thy seat will be vacant" (1 Sam. xx, 18). An extended outline was found on his study table the morning of his death. He served many of the most important charges in the Conference. He was in the presiding eldership two successive terms, and in district work, as well as in the pastorate, was eminently successful. A wife and five children survive. "The memory of the just is blessed."

Jesse Franklin Core, D.D., was born September 15, 1846, in Hillsboro, Pa., and died July 18, 1898, in the West Penn Hospital, Pittsburg. In January, 1864, he joined the Fourteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry, and served until September, 1865. He was a fearless soldier, was twice wounded, and made a most honorable record. When the war closed he returned to his home in Hillsboro, where shortly after he was converted. With this change came the conviction that he ought to preach. Obedient to the heavenly vision, he went South to attend the Methodist college at Millersburg, Ky. While there he was licensed to preach, in 1867, by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Returning North, he entered the Pittsburg Conference in 1868, and from that date until his death had an exceptional ministerial career. His appointments were: Elderton, Leechburg, Butler, Dayton, Greensburg, Blairsville, Smithfield Street, Pittsburg; Johnstown, eldership of Blairsville District, Wilkensburg, Tarentum, eldership of Washington District. He was a pulpit orator of high order. He had a magnificent physique and a strong, clear, rich voice. Intellectually he had a vigorous mind, active powers of perception, and a vivid imagination; and his was also a great heart, full of noble impulses. In every way, physically, intellectually, and in heart, he was a large man. With his gifts quickened by the divine Spirit he was a great preacher, often held his audiences spellbound, and at times was surpassingly eloquent. Twice he was a delegate to the General Conference—in 1888 and 1896. In 1897 Waynesburg College conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. In 1871 he married Sarah K. Heiner, of Kittanning, Pa., who survives, with six children. In the very midst of his labors and in the full strength of his years he was smitten and came to the end of life's toils in the fifty-third year of his age. His body was carried from the altar of the church by his brethren in the ministry, and at the cemetery it was lowered into the grave by his comrades in the war and buried with military honors.

Richard L. Miller, D.D., was born in Westmoreland County, Pa., February 13, 1825, and died in Washington, Pa., August 24, 1898. In his boyhood his educational advantages were meager. The country schools of sixty years ago, supplemented with a few terms at Dayton Academy, comprised the sum total of his instruction. But his father's library was rich in quality, comprising the English classics, and these he so mastered that they had a marked influence on his thought and style throughout his life. He was converted and joined the Church at a camp meeting held in Armstrong County in 1849, and in 1851 he was licensed to preach. From that time until less than a year before his death he was in the effective ranks of the Pittsburg Conference. Among the more prominent positions which he filled were Sharpsburg, Greensburg, Lawrenceville, Brownsville, Birmingham, Washington, Monongahela City, South Common, and Union Centenary. For two terms he was presiding elder, first on the South East Pittsburg District, and following this on the North Pittsburg District. He was a delegate to the General Conference of 1876. In 1868 the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on him by Mount Pleasant College, Ia. In 1858 he married Miss Sarah Woodward, who died in February, 1890. As a preacher he ranked high. He was an original thinker, with great power of expression. Though ordinarily quiet and undemonstrative, there were times when he rose to the heights of oratorical power, and presented his matter in such a forceful manner as to carry all before him. In the management of the affairs of his congregation or district he manifested a high order of business ability. As a thinker he was exceedingly clear and logical. His mind was like crystal. He was passionately devoted to that which he saw to be right. His religious faith partook of the character of the whole man. It was founded upon the eternal Rock. It was strong, unbending, unwavering. Death had no terrors for him. A few weeks before he passed away he said, "I may live a week or two, or perhaps a month or two; but that gives me no concern." At the last he longed to lay aside the worn-out body that the soul, unfettered, might go onward in development toward the perfection of the sons of God. Truly it can be said that a prince and a great man hath fallen in Israel.

Israel C. Pershing was born in Youngstown, Pa., November 5, 1826, and died in Cambridge, Pa., September 12, 1898. When about seventeen he was converted and united with the Church in Johnstown. After passing through the local schools of that town he entered Jefferson College, from which he graduated at the head of a class of fifty-four August 7, 1850. In his study of theology he had for his teacher Dr. Samuel Wakefield, that ripe scholar and profound theologian. Immediately after graduation he entered the Pittsburg Conference, and soon rose to prominence. For twenty-four consecutive years he was the secretary of the Conference. He was four times a delegate to the General Conference. He was delegate to the International Sunday School Convention at Atlanta, Ga.; a delegate to the Robert Raikes Centennial in London, and a delegate to the Evangelical Alliance in New York in 1878. His alma mater, Washington and Jefferson College, honored him with the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He was a man of rare intellectual gifts, an earnest, sympathetic, instructive preacher; a man of the most genial ways, buoyant in temperament, of tireless energy, and with singularly unshaken confidence in his work. Revivals of great power characterized his ministry, notably at Liberty Street, Pittsburg; South Street, Steubenville; and East Liberty, Pittsburg. To many doing noble work in the Church to-day who were led to Christ under his ministry his memory is imperishable. On June 10, 1851, he married Miss Charlotte L. Canan. In 1859, at the earnest solicitation of Bishop Simpson, he accepted the presidency of the Pittsburg Female College, where for twenty-seven years of heroic toil he remained. During that time inducements from similar institutions both East and West were held out to him, but were not sufficient to sever the ties which bound him to the college and the Conference. Upon retiring from the presidency of the college in 1886 he was granted a supernumerary relation. In the years following he preached almost every Sabbath, frequently officiating at the openings or dedications of churches, and quite recently he took charge of the church at Munhall. A revival of great spiritual power broke out, and for four or five weeks in winter he preached night after night when greatly needing physical rest. In the midst of secular work he never forgot his sacred calling. He was a good man. "He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

Elias Wesley Marlatt died in Johnstown December 27, 1897. He was born twenty-nine years ago in Big Sewickley Township, Allegheny County. He attended school at Beaver Falls for a number of years, and later was a student of Geneva College, at the same place. After graduation there he went to college at St. Louis, and from there entered the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor. At first he had the law in contemplation, and took such a course at Ann Arbor. In 1895 he was appointed pastor of the church at McKee's Rocks. The following year he was assigned to Saltsburg, and at the Conference of 1897 was appointed to Moxham. He had a clear religious experience, and his ministry, though brief, was eminently successful. Thoroughly educated, studious in his habits, keeping himself abreast of the times, he was a preacher of more than ordinary ability. He was a man of kind spirit and gentle manners, and had an impressive delivery. During his last summer he had had a serious illness while pastor at Saltsburg. The disease that thus prostrated him was pneumonia. So strong was his desire to be at his post that he undertook his duties sooner than he ought. When assailed by typhoid fever, with his constitution already weakened, he was unable to resist. As the days went on it was clear that the end was not far off. He himself became aware of his approaching dissolution. There was, however, no fear. He talked calmly about his departure and at last slept peacefully away.
